PREFATORY NOTE

This paper has been especially prepared as a result of a bit of misinformation in a report from a Nantucket source to the effect that Thomas (Nash) McCann, son of Thomas (Nash) and Margaret (Alley) McCann, died June 9, 1883. The son Thomas listed in the report, father of this compiler, died Feb. 14, 1919, at 21 Free Street, South Portland, Maine. The date of death given in the report actually is that for Thomas Nash McCann the father, who died on Nantucket June 9, 1883. An understandable error because of the similarity of names. But although the direct result of the misinformation noted, it is intended that this paper make available to all interested persons, such information concerning the history and genealogy of Thomas, the son, as will satisfy the curious until such time as the parent paper has been prepared. However, to make this history as complete as possible in itself, supplements to this paper are planned or are now being prepared showing the genealogy of the maternal and some of the intermarrying lines.

While intended to be contained only in the McCann genealogy previously mentioned, and will be in its proper place therein, nevertheless, by itself this separate account of the family of Thomas, the son, is particularly fitting, for it remained for the latter to carry on the line. There was no other male offspring of Thomas and Margaret (Alley) McCann, who in turn had sons to reach manhood and found families for themselves. Thomas, the son, has 54 living descendents, 21 of them males of the surname McCann; thus the line is assured through him. But from the father sprang numerous worthy female progeny who live to carry on the blood; these are located far and wide.

No.25; Page 1. At this time there is no specific proof as to the origin of Thomas^{1}Nash McCann (Sr.)---Maine or Ireland. Records suggest the possibility, although not the probability, that either may be the case. Inevitably, this baffling question will arise to confront those of the descendants who sometime may embark upon the business of further research into their McCann ancestry. For the benefit of just such persons, records supporting both Maine and Ireland are cited below:

Born in Maine- His own death record (8 June 1883), aged 74-10-0, also supported by the belief in the family of Thomas^{2} (Calais, Me.), and apparantly by the families of the son Henry A. and daughter Clara J. (Maine); Nantucket, Mass. VR (Calais, Me.), and Mass. VS 347:239 #55 (Maine); his parents "Foreign & Ireland."

Birth record, son Thomas^{2}N. Jr. (10 Apr. 1857), Randolph, Mass. VR 1857, Vol.B, page 19, #843 (Calais, Me.); also Mass. VS 106:309 #? (Calais, Me.).

Birth record, his wife, Margaret N. Alley, Nantucket, Mass. PVR I:31; PR 38,* 3d 3mo 1833 (sic, 1823)(Ellsworth, Me.).

Pollard Papers, Manuscript by Mrs. Eliza Pollard, of Nantucket, Mass., Vol. 3 page 57 (Of Ellsworth or Bangor, Me.).

His marriage record (27 June 1841), to Margaret N. Alley, Nantucket, Mass. PVR IV:145; PR 38 (Bangor or Ellsworth, Me.)

1860 U. S. CE, Vol. 7, Randolph, Mass., dwelling 498, family 587 (Maine); 1870 U. S. CE, Vol. 22, Randolph, Mass., dwelling 713, family 69 (Maine); and 1880 U. S. CE, page 27, Nantucket, Mass., dwelling 360, family 417 (Maine).

Death record, son Thomas N. Jr. (born 10 Apr. 1857) 14 Feb. 1919, South Portland, Me. VR (Maine); and for son Henry A., 18 Dec. 1890, Barnstable, Mass. VR, 1890, Vol. 21, page 53, #4 (Maine); and for daughter Clara J. (McCann) Barnard, 7 Nov. 1915, Nantucket, Mass. VR (Maine).

Born in Ireland- 1850 U. S. CE, Randolph, Mass., Vol. 30, dwelling 17, family 21 (Ireland); and 1855 Mass. CE, Randolph, Mass., Vol. 28, dwelling 332, family 443 (Ireland); and birth record for son Thomas N. Jr. (born 22 Nov. 1853), died 1 Aug. 1855, Randolph, Mass., Mass. VS 73:233, #163 (Ireland); and birth record son Benjamin F., Canton, Mass., 6 Mar. 1849, Canton VR 1850, Vol. 2, page 19,#55 (Ireland).

Birth record, daughter Isabella Frances, 6 Nov. 1850, Randolph, Mass., Mass. VS 43:202, #134 (Kilkenny, Ireland); and death record for son Charles E., 24 Feb. 1908, Nantucket, Mass. VR (Kilkerny, Ireland).

Born in Mass.- 1865 Mass. CE, Vol. XXIII, Nantucket, Mass., dwelling 392, family 457 (Mass.).

Born in Scotland- Death record, daughter Sarah C. (McCann) Perkins, 10 Apr. 1911, Rochester, Mass. VR (Scotland).

No.26; Page 2. Note- Researchers in McCann lineages can not fail to be interested in the article Patrick McCann, Hero of The Border, beginning on page 78 of Historical Papers By Michael J. O'Brien, Reprinted from The Journal of The American Irish Historical Society - Vol. XXI-1922, in which many persons bear- the surname McCann, and one each McKan and McKann, are mentioned. This pamphlet was sent this compiler by the President of the Nantucket, Mass. Historical Association, upon receipt of the McCann - Alley Genealogy 1954, there. Patrick died in Lewis County, West Virginia, in 1836; was 75 years old in 1835, and his marriage to Hannah Johnson is recorded in a neighboring county. A stream called "McCann's River" and a stout log cabin called "McCann's Fort" are mentioned in connection with him.

At the time of the 1855 Mass. CE, Thomas^{1} N. McCann was living with Relief Poole, age 53, and Thomas A. Poole, age 25, in dwelling 332, family 443, at Randolph, Mass. Were they related?

While Thomas^{1} N. McCann and family were residing at Canton, Mass., there also was the family of Hugh and Catherine McCann living there; later Thomas^{1} named a daughter "Catherine." Was there any connection between the two families?

One legend has it that Thomas^{1} N. McCann had left Ireland to join an uncle in Calais, Me.; there were a number of persons named Nash and a few McCans, McCann, and a MacAnn, in Maine also. Whether the uncle was a Nash or McCann is not known, but one Robert Nash was a trader on the Maine coast (Gen. Dist. of Me. & N.H.). The family of Thomas^{2} believed that Thomas^{1} was wrecked on Cape Cod from a vessel that had left Calais, Me.?

No.27; Page 2. It is considered desirable to note here the records documenting the parentag~~k~~e, birth, marriage, and death of Margaret Nuns (Alley) McCann, wife of Thomas^{1}Nash McCann (Sr.):

Nantucket, Mass. VR III:30 ("Alley, Richard (Ally) and Martha Ally, int. May 2, 1778 (Alley, 'her cousin'), s. Eleazer and Tabitha of Lynn and Martha Alley, d. Jacob and Eunice (Black), (she b.prob. 16 Dec. 1761, in Nantucket"-Nantucket Historical Association), m. Sept. 6, PR 38)*

Nantucket PVR III:29 ("Alley, John and Martha Fisher, int. 26 July 1806 (John s. Richard and Martha (Alley), (b. 3 Jan. 1783, in Nantucket - Nantucket source quoting Lynn records and Pollard Papers), and Martha Fisher, d. Thomas of Chilmark, m. PR 38"). NOTE The birth and death of John Alley were not found in Nantucket VR, so the above record assumes the greatest importance.

Banks III:174 ("'Patty' (a nickname for Martha) Fisher, b. 1793, m. John Alley, 10 Aug. 1806.") & ("'Patty (Fisher) and John Alley had a daughter Margaret who m. Thomas McCann of Ellsworth, Me.'").

Nantucket PVR I:31 ("Alley, Margaret, w. Thomas McCann of Ellsworth, Me., d. John and Martha Fisher), 3d 3mo 1833 (sic, 1823), PR 38") Nantucket PVR IV:145 ("McCan, Thomas of Bangor, Me., and Margaret N. (int. Margaret M.) Alley of N. June 27, 1841 (McCann of Ellsworth, Me. and Margaret Alley, d. John and Martha (Fisher), PR 38") NOTE The birth and marriage record of Margaret Nuns (Alley) McCann give her parentage, while it is not stated in her death record, thus the importance of the above records.

NOTE: "PR 38" refers to "Private records, from the William C. Folger Genealogical Records in the possession of the Nantucket Historical Association," which are given as the reference for many of the Printed Vital Records (PVR) of Nantucket, Mass.

Mass. VR Deaths 1908, 69:149 ("Margaret N. McCann at Plumb Lane, Nantucket, Mass., 25 Aug. 1908, aged 85-5-20 'widow'; maiden name 'Margaret Alley'; her husband was Thomas McCann; born at Nantucket, names and birthplaces of her parents 'unknown'; buried 28 Aug. 1908 in Prospect Hill Cemetery, Nantucket.") NOTE The family celebrated Margaret's birthday on 5 Mar., not 3 Mar., which agrees with the death record.

Nantucket VR I:32 ("Alley, Richard, h. Martha (d. Jacob Alley), s. Eleazer and Tabitha of Lynn, 15th 7 mo 1751. PR 38.")

Nantucket VR V:21 ("Alley, Richard, h. Martha (d. Jacob Alley), s. Eleazer and Tabitha of Lynn, 16th 4 mo. 1825. PR 38.")

Nantucket VR V:21 ("Alley, Martha, w. Richard ('her cousin') d. Jacob Alley and Eunice (Black) 28th 11 mo 1823. PR 38.")

NOTE Cousin Maybelle (Perkins) Jones, referred to in the early pages of the work, had written this compiler, in part as follows: "John Alley m. Deborah Smith Fischer in Baltimore, Md., I don't know the year but as (our) grandmother Margaret (Alley) McCann was born in 1823, it must have been in the early 1800's. Both were Quakers and came directly to Nantucket in a ship he had taken there (md.) to be fitted out. He was owner and operator of a ropewalk in N. Deborah Smith's father was owner of a ship-fitting business in Md." The above records clearly document Margaret's birth and parentage, which does not agree at all with Maybelle's statement. When told of the above records, she then wondered whether John Alley had married sisters, the one an aunt who became stepmother to Margaret after the death of the other?

No.28; Page 2. That Thomas^1 N. McCann spelled his surname "McCan" at the time of his marriage, and changed it to "McCann" after marriage at the request of his wife Margaret, is legend in the family. But it is found written both ways in official records concerning himself and family; also "M'Can" and "Mecan" in one census enumeration each. In vital records it also was found written "Macon" and "McKeen" once each. Nowhere was the name found written as it should be with the Mac in full and not contracted to "Mc". Woulfes Irish Names and Surnames 1923 gives the origin of the name.

No.29; Page 3. At "Charles Edward": Laura Gibbs Holmes was the daughter of Henry and Auralia Holmes---"Benjamin and Aralia Wilson Bearse Holmes" according to the daughter Gracie.

1.CHRISTIAN[1] HERMAN BACHTOLD, from the northern Switzerland community of Schaffhausen, on the Bavarian border, settled in Springfield, Mass., a machinist. He died before the marriage of the son Walter. He is said to have had a sister Miss Anna Bachtold, born in Schleitheim, Switzerland, Apr. 16, 1860, died in Schaffhausen, Mar. 9, 1932. Related Bachtolds are believed by the family to be living in Switzerland at the present time. And one named Bachtold is said to have been a Burgermeister. Also, an Elizabeth Keller Baechtold, is believed by the family to be related. In Bavaria the name is written "Bechtolt."

Christian Herman Bachtold, the Immigrant, married (first) Varina Schudel (Verena Shudel), daughter of A. Schudel or Shudel (Schudd in the son Walter's birth certificate, in which the family name is "Bachtold"; the son Walter and others use the spelling "Baechtold.") Varina (as the name is in the son Walter's birth certificate) came to the U. S. when about 21 years old; she died aged about 41 years, the son Walter then about 8 years old. Christian Herman Bachtold married, secondly, Frau Carrie------. Both Varina and Carrie were from Switzerland also.

AN ACCOUNT OF THE FAMILY OF THOMAS NASH & SARAH ELIZABETH GILMAN MCCANN AND THEIR DESCENDENTS

McCann - First Generation

The McCann line begins in this country with Thomas[1] the father. But little is known of his early years. According to the best available information he came to Nantucket in May 1841, in company with Edward Alley, brother of Margaret. The family of Thomas,[2] junior, believed the father to have come to Nantucket from Calais, Me. That there was cause for this belief is seen in the record of birth of the former on which the father's birthplace appears as "Calais, Me.". Furthermore, the "History of Martha's Vineyard" by Charles E. Banks, 1925, Vol. 3, page 170-174, which has been quoted to this compiler in part as follows: "------and John Alley had a daughter Margaret who married Thomas McCann of Ellsworth, Me.", appears to place the father nearby to Calais. The "Pollard Papers" (manuscript compiled by Mrs. Eliza Pollard), Vol. 3, page 57, which also has been quoted in part to this compiler, thus: "Margaret Alley, born 1823, married Thomas McCann of either Ellsworth or Bangor, Maine", likewise appears to fix the father's origin in the same general area as Calais. However, on the record of birth of his daughter Isabella Frances, the father's birthplace appears as "Kilkenny, Ireland", and on that for his first son named Thomas, junior, the father's birthplace appears as "Ireland". These last agree with family tradition as related by Mrs. Maybelle L. (Perkins) Jones, granddaughter of Thomas[1] the father, which fixed the birthplace in Kilkenny County, Ireland. Maybelle Jones lived with and cared for Margaret, widow of Thomas[1] the father, on Nantucket, for a number of years and, of his nine grandchildren now living, none is better qualified to furnish information concerning him. Maybelle Jones was unaware of the existence of the birth records showing the father's place of birth when she imparted her information. He was born in 1803 in Kilkenny, Ireland, and was his wife's senior by twenty years, according to the same source. However, from the death certificate it is learned that he was 74 years and 10 months old when he died at the "old home" on Lyon Street, Nantucket, on June 9, 1883, and therefore was born about Aug. 1808 and not in 1803. His full name was Thomas Nash McCann. On the birth records of his children born at Randolph, Mass., the father's name appears as "Thomas N. McCan" on the first, and as "Thomas N. McCann" on the others. The name on the record of birth for his daughter Martha born at Falmouth, Mass., is "Thomas N. McCan".

Thomas Nash McCann,[1] the father, married, June 27, 1841, in the Methodist Church that stood at the time on the corner of Fair and Lyon Streets, Nantucket, Margaret Nuns Alley, daughter of John and Martha of Nantucket. She was born on Nantucket Mar. 3, 1823, according to several records. However, Maybelle Jones has related that the family celebrated Margaret's birthday on Mar. 5th. She was a Quaker by birth but withdrew from the faith prior to her marriage. She was baptized in the Centre Street Methodist Church on the Island Oct. 4, 1868; the family were members of this church where Thomas[1] frequently substituted, after the return of the family to Nantucket. A very charming and gentle little lady whom this compiler visited in 1906, Margaret died at her daughter Clara's Aug. 25, 1908, according to the certificate of death, but Aug. 16, 1908, according to the records of the Centre Street Church. The marriage record for Thomas and Margaret shows he to be of Bangor or Elsworth, Me., which no doubt is the source of similar information contained in the references quoted on page 1. He, Thomas[1] the father, stern rather than affectionate, was a distinctive character; he invariably sported a cane and wore a top hat. He died June 9, 1883, as previously noted; both he and Margaret were buried in Prospect Hill Cemetery, on the Island. On the birth records of the children born at Randolph, the mother's name appears as "Margaret N. Alley", "Margaret McCann", and simply as "Margaret"; on that for Martha at Falmouth, it is "Margaret". Her birthplace is given as "Nantucket" on those at Randolph, and is lacking on that for Martha. See the parent paper.

The first and second sons of Thomas[1] and Margaret born at Randolph, were named Thomas N. McCann, Jr. The first died Aug. 1, 1855, aged 2 years. It is believed probable that a third son, probably the second child born on Nantucket, likewise was named Thomas N. McCann, Jr., for tradition in the family of Thomas[2] had it there was such a son, who was crippled and who died at the age of four years. Others of the family also believe there was a third son so named, that died as an infant. At any rate, the second son born and so named at Randolph, Mass., was Thomas,[2] this compiler's father and the principal of this genealogy.

The roll of the children of Thomas Nash and Margaret Nuns (Alley) McCann is as yet incomplete, and probably will never be fully known due to incomplete family records and scanty vital records. However, all children who grew to maturity are well known to members of the family and others, and the census enumerations for 1850, 1855, 1860, 1865, and 1870, clearly indicate who these were also. According to the compiler's mother, Thomas[1] was said by his wife Margaret to have had seventeen children, but whether these included three by a former probable marriage at Kilkenny, Ireland, is not definitely known. (See the parent paper.)

Children of Thomas N. & Margaret N. (Alley) McCann:

i Charles Edward,[2] born Mar. 2, 1843, at Nantucket. Married Laura Gibbs Holmes. Died Nantucket Feb. 24, 1908. Had 8 children, only one, Gracie, married and had children.

ii Martha,[2] born Jan. 29, 1844, at Falmouth, Mass. One of the children that died as an infant.

iii Henry Augustus,[2] born Mar. 13, 1845, at New Bedford, Mass. Married 1st, Susan Lavers; 2d, Mary G. Wyer; 3d, Josephine F. Hathaway. Died Dec. 18, 1890, at Barnstable (Hyannisport), Mass. Had 4 children, only one, Margaret, married and had children.

iv Clara Jane,[2] born Feb. 25, 1847, at Nantucket. Married Frederick W. Barnard. Died Nov. 7, 1915, at Nantucket. Had 2 children, only one, Lillian, married and had children.

v Benjamin Franklin,^{2} born Mar. 6, 1849, at Canton, Mass. Never married. Died at sea Nov. 28, 1875.

vi Margaret Ella,^{2} born Nov. 6, 1850, at Randolph, Mass., according to her marriage record, and other sources; note the date of birth is identical with that of Isabella? Married John B. Perkins at Nantucket. Died (   ) Mass., about 1872. Had one child that died about 5 years old.

vii Isabella Frances,^{2} born Nov. 6, 1850, at Randolph, Mass. One of the children that died as an infant. Note the date of birth is identical with that for Margaret Ella?

viii Thomas N., Jr.,^{2} born Nov. 22, 1853, at Randolph, Mass. Died at Randolph, Aug. 1, 1855, aged 2 years.

* ix Thomas N., Jr.,^{2} born Apr. 10, 1857, at Randolph, Mass. Married Sarah Elizabeth Gilman. Died South Portland, Me., Feb. 14, 1919. Had 9 children, seven of whom married and have children. The principal of this genealogy and the compiler's father.

x Sarah Catherine,^{2} born Mar. 29, 1863, at Nantucket, according to her marriage record and family tradition. Married John B. Perkins widowed husband of Margaret Ella above, as his second wife. She died Rochester, Mass., about 1911. Had 8 children, four of whom married and had children; Maybelle, Fred, George, and William.

For further information on the families and children of Charles (i), Henry (iii), Clara (iv), Margaret (vi), and Sarah (x), see the parent paper. Gracie, daughter of Charles, residing at Hyannis, Mass., is now the oldest living member of the family. Mabel (Maybelle), daughter of Sarah is the next oldest living member; and Percy Frank, son of Thomas^2 is the next oldest.

In the census enumerations, the surname has been found spelled "McCan", "McCann", "Mecan"; and in one birth record, at least, it is spelled "Macon". The spelling "McCan" is tradition in the family. Since typing the foregoing, it has been found that in two instances, census enumerations confirm the birth of Thomas[1] in Ireland. But in two instances it is also "Maine" and in one case it is "Mass." The census enumerations contain numerous errors evident at a glance where the five enumerations of the years previously mentioned, are at hand. For example, Henry A., in one instance is "Hanah A."; Thomas[1] is shown as "Thomas N.", "Thomas A." and "Thomas M."; and Margaret N. as "Margaret M."

Second Generation.

THOMAS NASH MCCANN,[2] (Thomas[1]), the son of Thomas Nash and Margaret Nuns (Alley) McCann, born Apr. 10, 1857, at Randolph, Mass., where the family resided for some years while the father was engaged in the construction of public buildings on the mainland. He died Feb. 14, 1919, at South Portland, Me.; burial at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, South Portland, Me. The birth occured at Morton Row, Randolph. Tom McCann as he was known on the Island, spent his boyhood and youth on Nantucket, where he was reared from about the age of three years. He received his education in the public schools there, although from his description of them, the one at least appears to have been in the house of the teacher; a pipe-smoking lady who would on occasion let her pupils watch her making yeast. At the age of seventeen, Thomas[2] left Nantucket in one of the hardest times the Island had ever known. Making his way to Milford, Mass., where relatives then resided, he found employment in shoe-stock factories in which he later became a foreman. He married, Dec. 3, 1884, in Hopedale, Mass., then a part of Milford, SARAH ELIZABETH GILMAN, daughter of Simon Grandison and Sarah Maria (Sutherland) Gilman, of Hopedale; the Rev. Charles M. Hall, officiated. She was born May 2, 1864, in Saco, Me.; died Feb. 2, 1928, Portland, Me., at 19 Forest Street; burial at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, South Portland, Me., in the family burial plot, where lay her husband Tom and daughter "Winnie". Her parents Simon and Sarah, married in Saco, Me., Nov. 24, 1852, both then of Biddeford, Me.; Rev. G. G. Strickland, officiated. Her father was born in the village of Saccarappa, Westbrook, Me., June 29, 1831; died at Hopedale, Mass., Aug. 7, 1896; burial at Village Cemetery, Hopedale. Her mother was born at Saco, Me. Apr. 28, 1833; died at Milford, Mass., Dec. 11, 1918; burial at Village Cemetery, Hopedale; Rev. Harold Gilman McCann, brother of the compiler, officiated at the interment. Her parents resided in Biddeford, Saco and Kittery, Me., and in Hopedale and Milford, Mass. The father this compiler can not remember; he was a machinist. But the mother, a most gracious and charming lady, always to be seen so trim and well-dressed, always cheerful, adored by her grandchildren, personally known for many years and often visited by the compiler and escorted home to Hopedale from our house at Woburn, Mass., by me, many times.

Known as "Lizzie Gilman" before marriage, Sarah Elizabeth's maiden name thus appears on her marriage record and on the records of birth of a number of her children, but on that for the compiler it appears as Sarah E. Gilman, as it also does in the 1870 U. S. Census enumeration for Milford, Mass. The death record gives her name as Elizabeth G(ilman). McCann; after marriage she invariably signed her name so.

On her marriage record the mother's maiden name is mistakenly stated as Sarah Gilman; there is ample proof that the mother was Sarah Maria Sutherland before marriage.

Mrs. Thomas Nash McCann (Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Gilman McCann), had a very distinguished early American ancestry on her father's side, as a look at the Gilman Genealogy will disclose. She is directly descended from Revolutionary officers and men prominent in early Mass. and N.H. history.

At the time of her marriage her family resided in Hopedale, Mass., where her father and some of her brothers were machinists in the Draper mills, and where too one or more of her father's brothers, including Albert Huston Gilman, also were connected; the latter it is said was in a brief partnership with the Drapers. She started and completed her schooling while at Hopedale.

Following their marriage, Thomas^2 and his bride---Tom and Lizzie McCann as they were thereafter known---immediately set up housekeeping at 56 Pine Street, Milford, Mass., which place they had previously furnished and made ready for occupancy; later the family moved to Prospect Street, Milford. In 1896 the father's work took him to Auburn, Me., and moving the family there they occupied a house on Turner Street, later moving to Goff Hill. Here the family resided until 1898-9 when the father's work took him to Portland, Me. Moving the family to South Portland (Purpooduck - Ferry Village), residences were had on Front Street facing the harbor, very soon thereafter moving to an old homestead house at the corner of Preble and Jefferson Streets, then to a house on Shawmut Street, and finally to a house at the intersection of Front, Pickett, and Preble Streets. It was not many years, however, before the work of the father caused the family to move to Woburn, Mass. (1904), where a house was had at 3 Prospect Street. But in 1907 the father's work took the family back to South Portland, Me., and there a residence was had on High Street, near Sawyer, until the summer of 1911, when they moved to the old Stevens homestead home at 642 Stevens Ave., Deering (Portland). Here Thomas^2 suffered a shock and members of the family started to leave home to found families for themselves; five of the children being married during this period, the oldest from this residence, the others elsewhere. The parents resided with this compiler for awhile in 1916 and 1917, until conditions caused by the war made it advisable for them to return to South Portland, where a house at 21 Free Street was occupied, with the two youngest daughters. After the death of the father in 1919, the mother and girls resided on Myrtle Street, Portland, moving there sometime in 1920, thence to a home on Turner Street, and later to North Street, finally moving to Forest Street where the mother died in 1928.

The name of Thomas^2 appears on his marriage record as "Thos. Nash McCann". His signature after marriage was "Thos. N. McCann". His marriage took place the year following his father's death. Superintendent of shoe-stock factories in Auburn, and in Portland, Me., as well as Milford and Woburn, Mass. Member of the United Workmen, the Rebekahs, and Odd-Fellows; deputy grand master in the latter while in Milford. In religion, Tom McCann was a Methodist; in politics a Republican. Superintendent of Methodist Sunday school in Milford, where he first met his wife. Did considerable public speaking as a young man. A man of honor and dignity; stern when necessary; devoted to his wife and family, and a good provider. He was a man of strictly temperate habits, using neither tobacco nor ardent spirits in any form. Until partially paralyzed by shock he never failed to help with the dishes after the evening meal, singing hymns the while, to which passers-by often paused to listen. The mother, Lizzie, a sweet-tempered lady, a gentle and loving mother, never harsh, devoted to her husband and family. In religion she was a Universalist. Both were liked and respected by their neighbors and all who knew them. Reverenced and beloved by their children, they were endowed with every feeling of parental and conjugal affection. The family of Tom and Lizzie McCann did not hold a conspicuous place in society; none of its members ever were active in politics. But theirs was a large and interesting family, which lived a simple "Down East" life. Although quite humble, theirs was a home in which the principles of honor and morality were exemplified and taught. The qualities of its members as men and women and as citizens reflected this teaching.

KENNETH SUTHERLAND MCCANN,3 (Thomas,2 Thomas1), son of Thomas Nash and Sarah Elizabeth (Gilman) McCann, born May 12, 1893, Milford, Mass. The compiler of this genealogy. Named for his great-grandfather George William 'Sutherland'. Of the sons, most nearly resembles the father in physical appearance; the older son Percy Frank most closely resembles the grandfather. Received his education in the public schools of Auburn and South Portland, Me., and Woburn, Mass., but did not, however, complete the education offered by the public schools; left school in the fall of 1906 in the seventh grade at Woburn against the wishes of the parents, to go to work. Employed as Special Delivery Boy at the local post office; Western Union Messenger Boy at the local depot; and sold papers on the trolleys in the commons, all at one and the same time, when the duties of the one would not interfere with those of the others. But when the family moved back to South Portland, Me., in 1907, found employment in the forge shop of a local marine hardware manufacturing company, and finally at the age of fifteen years, as operator of a drop-hammer therein. The early months of this employment interrupted with several months on a farm in Intervale, Me., while recuperating from an eye injury. On the New England seaboard but few of the boys not receiving their schooling in preparation for further education reached manhood without having made at least one voyage at sea. The subject, in company with other boys, obeying the instincts that cause boys to band together, became familiar with the craft anchored or moored in the harbor, and with some of their crews, customs, messes, and top-hamper. Thus acquiring a youthful fondness for the sea, the subject, on May 18, 1909, entered the Revenue Cutter Service——later the Coast Guard——and continued therein until on Dec. 31, 1946, he was retired for physical disability, after having been retired in 1941 and called back to active duty after a few days of retirement. A veteran of World wars I & II. Commanded the CHIPPEWA on the Lakes and the DALLAS at Boston. Masters Mate during World War I; assigned to the CALUMET at New York. Chief Warrant Officer and Lt. Comdr. during World War II. Assistant Hull Inspector of new cutters constructed at Quincy, Mass., Oakland, Calif., and Bay City, Mich; Inspector of a number of vessels constructed at South Jacksonville, Fla. Hull Superintendent of Coast Guard Yard, Curtis, Bay, Md., for many years, and its first Docking Officer; that is, drydocking officer. Designer of the metal shop at that yard. The last official act of President Coolidge was to sign this subject's commission. Member American Society of Naval Architects & Marine Engineers for many years. Member Masonic Orders for many years. In religion a Universalist; in politics a Republican. Like most members of the family a "book worm". Member Independent Order of Good Templars in his youth. Noted for "the ability to see causes and effects, his acknowledged ability in his professional duties, his integrity, and a quickness of perception". A skull fracture received at work during the winter of 1908-1909 contributed to his decision to enter the Revenue Cutter Service. But he had been charmed by the sea and in the early Spring of 1907 had attempted to ship aboard a North German Lloyd liner at East Boston, without success. Served aboard various craft and performed various duties afloat and ashore prior to the last assignment at the Coast Guard Yard, Curtis Bay, Md. Received many letters of commendation. At retirement given testimonial dinner and other honors.

Kenneth Sutherland McCann,3 married Oct. 2, 1915, at the Dutch Reformed Church Parsonage, St. George, Staten Island, N.Y., ANNA MARIE BRUNS, daughter of Niels Anderson Nelson and Karen Sophie (Andersen) Bruns, of Portland, Me. The Rev. Geo. C. Lennington officiating. She was born May 30, 1892, at Portland, Me.; born Anna Marie, christened Anna Marie Charlotte, in the First Lutheran Church, Portland, Me. Her father was born in Ballum, in the duchy of Schleswig, Denmark, Jan. 17, 1851; he came to this country Sept. 28, 1872, on the S. S. BUDA, disembarking at Quebec, Cda. Came to Portland and settled there; founded a successful building and contracting business; died in Portland in 1922. Her mother was born in ~~Copenhagen,~~ Denmark, in 1852; came over shortly after 1872; died in ~~Portland~~ Cumberland, Mar. ~~10~~ 5, 1895, buried at Falmouth, Me. Both parents buried in Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth, Me. Her parents were married in Portland June 1, 1879; N. J. Ellestad, clergyman, officiating. It was her father's first marriage; at the death of

Karen his first wife, he married, 2d, Jan. 27, 1896, in Portland, Clara Elizabeth Williamson of Mandal, Norway. On Anna's birth record her father's name appears as "Nils Anders Bruns", and that of the mother as "C. Sophie Anderson". But on the parents marriage record, the father's name appears as "Niels A. N. Bruns", and that of the mother as "Karen Sophie Anderson". Anna member Eastern Star and Navy Mother's Club; noted for her good nature, her culinary skill, and her ability to set a good table which so many relatives and friends have enjoyed. Following their marriage Kenneth and Anna had light-housekeeping facilities at 128 Fourth Ave. (later Benzieger Ave.), New Brighton, Staten Island, N.Y., until on Aug. 12, 1916, a second floor apartment was had at 136 Third Ave. (later Downey Ave.), same place. From June 1918, to May 1919, the family were with Anna's parents in Portland, due to conditions caused by the war, but from the latter date until Sept. 1919, they occupied the first floor flat at 104 Catalpa Ave., Perth Amboy, N.J. In Sept. 1919, and until July 1921, the family occupied the first floor apartment at 120 Vernal Street, Everett, Mass., moving to Sault Ste Marie, Mich. in July 1921, where the second floor apartment at 511 E. Spruce Street was had. In Jan. 1922, however, the family moved to No. 1 Superior Apts., Ashman St., until shortly before the winter of 1922-23, they moved to No.3 Garfield Apts., 701 W. Spruce St., that place. But in July of 1924 the father's work took the family to South Jacksonville, Fla., where a house was had at 807 Farragut Place. In Sept. 1925, after a month in Portland, the family occupied the lower flat at 51 Belmont Street, Everett, Mass., until Apr. 1928, when they moved to Quincy Point, Mass., where the upper flat at 108 Curtis Ave., was had. Aug. 1929, however, saw them on the move for Berkeley, Calif., where they occupied the lower flat at 2240 Prince Street. Jan. 1931, they moved to 160 Arlington Ave., Mariners Harbor, Staten Island, N.Y., where the third floor flat was had. In Mar. 1932, moved to 1831 Ninth Street, Bay City, Mich., where a bungalow was had. On Dec. 7 about, 1932, moved back to Mariners Harbor, S. I., where the third floor flat was had at 156 Arlington Ave. On Dec. 8, 1934, the family moved to Glen Burnie, Md., where the house at 311 Railroad Ave. (later Greenway) was occupied, until in June of 1944 they moved into the present home at 406 (formerly 404) First Ave., a modest bungalow type house which they own. In Glen Burnie members of the family, obeying the duties of active life, eventually left home to "battle" and found families for themselves.

GILMAN GENEALOGY

From "The Story Of The Gilmans and a Gilman Genealogy of the Descendents Of Edward Gilman of Hingham, England. 1550-1950", by Constance Le Neve Gilman Ames and the "Genealogical Dictionary of Maine and New Hampshire. 1936", by Noyes, Libby and Davis, except as noted.

The first unbroken line of records dates from:

Edward Gilman, born about 1525, at Caston, Norfolk, England; married June 22, 1550, Rose Rysse at Caston. They had sons John, Edward, Robert and Lawrence and daughters Margaret, Katherine, Rose, Johe and Elizabeth.

Edward, son of Edward and Rose Rysse, born in Caston, England (baptized) Apr. 20, 1557; wife's name not known. He was the father of Edward the Emigrant. He left Caston and moved to nearby Hingham. They had sons Edward and John and daughters Bridget, Margaret, Sarah and Mary. The list of children is said to be incomplete.

Bridget, sister of Edward the Emigrant, born about 1582; married Edward Lincoln and had Samuel and Thomas. Thomas Lincoln was called "the Weaver"; he emigrated to America on the ship BONADVENTURE with his aunt, Mrs. Mary Gilman Jacob (Mrs. Nicholas Jacob) in 1633 locating in Hingham, Mass. His brother, Samuel Lincoln was the direct ancestor of Abraham Lincoln.

EDWARD GILMAN the Emigrant,[1] the first American progenitor of the Gilman line; baptized 1587 at Hingham, Norfolk, England; died 1654 at Exeter, N.H. He married at Hingham, England, June 3, 1614, MARY CLARK and emigrated to America in 1638, settling in Hingham, Mass. He left England in the DILIGENT of Ipswich with the large party led by Rev. Robert Peck, Rector of Hingham, arriving at Boston Aug. 10, 1638, after a voyage of fourteen weeks, having embarked at Gravesend, England on Apr. 26, 1638, with his wife, three sons, two daughters, and three servants.

After three or four years he moved to Rohoboth and Ipswich, Mass. Soon after 1647 he followed his son Edward to Exeter, N.H., with the remainder of his family. He and his son Moses were accepted inhabitants at Exeter May 10, 1652. Here he lost no time in obtaining important grants and various properties.

The descent of Sarah Elizabeth (Gilman) McCann whose lineage is of particular interest to us, can be traced from two of the three sons of Edward the Emigrant, Moses Gilman and Hon. John Gilman.

Mary, widow of Edward the Emigrant died June 22, 1681 at Hingham, Mass.

Children, born and baptized near Hingham, England:

2 i Mary, bapt. Aug. 6, 1615.
3 ii Edward, bapt. Dec. 26, 1617.
4 iii Lydia, b. 1619.
5 iv Sarah, bapt. Jan. 19, 1622.
6 v John, b. Jan. 10, 1624.
* 7 vi Moses,[2] bapt. Mar. 11, 1630; married Elizabeth Hersie (Hersey).

NOTE. The Genealogical Dictionary gives five additional children who died.

NEWMARKET BRANCH 7

The genealogy of the three sons of Edward the Emigrant is arranged in three sections in The Gilman Genealogy, by Constance Le Neve Gilman Ames, a section for each son, Edward, John, and Moses, under the headings "Gilmanton Branch (Edward)", "Hon John Gilman Branch" and "Newmarket Branch (Moses)". It is the Newmarket Branch we are presently concerned with, so-called due to the fact that Moses Gilman located in Newmarket, later a part of Exeter.

MOSES GILMAN,[2] (Edward[1]), son of Edward the Emigrant and Mary (Clark) Gilman; baptized at Hingham, England, Mar. 11, 1630, came to America with his parents in 1638. After living in Hingham, Mass., for several years, moved to Ipswich, Mass., and in 1652, with his father, was made a townsman of Exeter, N.H. He married about 1658, ELIZABETH HERSIE (Hersey) of Hingham, Mass., daughter of William. He received numerous grants of land and was a man of wealth. Frequently appointed to positions of trust in Exeter and was a Selectman for several years.

He made his home in Newmarket, adjoining Exeter, and the charred beams of a portion of his original house are still to be seen in the country home "Gilman Terrace" which remained in the family until the recent death of Mr. Frank G. Peavey, a descendent. The children of Moses all married into prominent N. H. families. He died in 1701 and was buried near his home. The original house had been burned by Indians.

Two sons of Moses, Jeremiah and John, married Mary and Dorothy Wiggin, grand daughters of Gov. Thomas Wiggin on their father's side, their mother being the daughter of Gov. Bradstreet and the grand daughter of Gov. Thomas Dudley of Mass. Our interest centers next on the son Jeremiah.

Children, born Hingham, Mass. and Newmarket and Exeter, N.H.:

8 i Moses, bapt. July 3, 1659, Hingham, Mass.
* 9 ii Jeremiah,^{3} b. Aug. 31, 1660, Newmarket; married Mary Wiggin.
10 iii Elizabeth, b. Apr. 19, 1663, Newmarket.
11 iv James, b. May 31, 1665, Newmarket.
12 v Capt. John, b. June 7, 1668, Newmarket.
13 vi David, b. Exeter (Newmarket); d. unmarried 1735.
14 vii Joshua, b. abt. 1673, Newmarket.
15 viii Caleb, b. abt. 1678, Newmarket.
16 ix Mary, b. Exeter.
17 x Judith, b. Exeter.

JEREMIAH GILMAN,^{3} (Moses,^{2} Edward^1), son of Moses and Elizabeth (Hersie) Gilman; born Aug. 31, 1660, at Newmarket, N.H. Married July 30, 1685, MARY WIGGIN, born Mar. 22, 1668, daughter of Andrew Wiggin, and granddaughter of Gov. Thomas Wiggin. Her mother was Hannah, daughter of Gov, Simon Bradstreet and granddaughter of Gov. Thomas Dudley; a most distinguished ancestry. Her sister Dorothy married Jeremiah's brother Capt. John Gilman. Jeremiah was Capt. of the Militia in 1710; called Capt. Jeremiah.

Children, born Newmarket and Brentwood, N.H.:

18 i Jeremiah, taken by Indians; did not return.

19 ii Andrew, b. 1690, Brentwood; taken captive with brother Jeremiah but escaped and returned to his family.

* 20 iii Israel,^{4} b. Newmarket; married 1st Deborah Thing, daughter of Samuel; married 2d Ruth Sanborn.

21 iv Simon, b. Newmarket.

22 v Thomas, b. Newmarket.

30

COL. DAVID GILMAN,^{5} (Israel,^{4} Jeremiah,^{3} Moses,^{2} Edward^1), son of Israel and Deborah (Thing) Gilman; born June 9, 1735 in Newmarket (Exeter), N.H. Died May 9, 1827. The name of the 1st wife is not known; he married 2d SARAH SMITH HILTON, daughter of Joseph Smith and widow of Winthrop Hilton of Newmarket. She born 1738; died 1810.

Like his brothers he was a Colonel in the Revolution. "When the tide of war passed New Hampshire, he was commissioned in another state, a procedure which was repeated until he had seven commissions. Colonel Gilman was over six and one-half feet in height , of dignified manner and superior intellect. He was one of Washington's most reliable officers. While on a dangerous and important mission he was disabled by a serious accident which barred him from further military service. Washington wrote to him, accepting his resignation with regret and, as a token of esteem for 'A soldier, man and gentleman' presented him with his own sword." Colonel Gilman retired to Tamworth, N.H. where he was the first Justice and Selectman for several years. Col. Gilman was present at Major Andre's execution.

Children, born in Newmarket (Exeter):

* 39 i Simon,^{6} b. 1766; married Phoebe Allen.

40 ii Israel,

41 iii Deborah.

42 iv Betsey C., child of the 2d wife, b. Sept. 1, 1779.

39

SIMON GILMAN,^{6} (Col. David,^{5} Israel,^{4} Jeremiah,^{3} Moses,^{2} Edward^1), son of Col. David Gilman, born 1766 at Newmarket (Exeter), N.H. Married Dec. 5, 1790, PHOEBE ALLEN, daughter of Japeth Allen, a Revolutionary soldier of Bridgewater, Mass.; he lived in Tamworth, N.H., but moved to Maine later in life.

Children, born in Tamworth, N.H.:

49 vii Betsey, b. Aug. 9, 1799.

50 viii Louisa (Lovisa), b. Oct. 6, 1801.

51 ix "J. T." (John Taylor), b. Sept. 29, 1812.

SIMON GILMAN,7 (Simon,6 Col. David,5 Israel,4 Jeremiah,3 Moses,2 Edward1), son of Simon and Phoebe (Allen) Gilman; born July 3, 1797, at Tamworth, N.H. Died Dec. 12, 1862, at Sacramento, Calif., while visiting his son. Went to Westbrook, Me. when a young man. Neither of the above references mentions the wife or wives of Simon,7 but Mrs. Thomas Nash McCann (Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Gilman McCann), mother of the writer, stated that her grandfather Gilman married Elizabeth Huston of Westbrook, Me., at Westbrook, the daughter of Robert and Sarah (Jones) Huston and, further, that he married a second time while in Calif., from which 2d marriage there was no issue. The writer has found a record of the marriage of Simon Gilman and Elizabeth Huston, at Westbrook - Marriages Vol. 1, page 152; Intentions Vol. 1, page 35, but have made no attempt to prove the 2d marriage. The death record for Simon,8 bears out the fact that his mother was "Elizabeth Houston" born in Maine - Mass. Dept. Vital Statistics, Vol. 465, page 637, #14.

He operated a blacksmith's shop at Woodfords, near Portland. In 1845 he moved to Biddeford, Me. where he remained until his retirement at the age of 60.

Children, born Westbrook, Woodfords and Biddeford, Me.; no issue by the 2d wife; all the children listed except #52 & #61 were included in a description of the family by the mother of the writer, the names are as she stated them to be rather than as contained in the Gilman Genealogy, likewise with the names of their spouses:

52 i Elizabeth F., b. 1827; died young.

53 ii Albert Huston, b. Apr. 6, 1829; died 1875; married 1st Martha Whitney; married 2d Sarah Robert.

* 54 iii Simon Grandison,^{8} b. abt. June 29, 1831 at Westbrook, Me.; died at Hopedale, Mass., Aug. 7, 1896. My mother had believed her father was born June 13 or 23, 1831, but the death record for Simon,^{8} indicates he was born about June 29, 1831; his gravestone further states that he was born in 1831; the Gilman Genealogy states that he was born 1841 which is an error. He married Sarah Maria Sutherland.

55 iv Sumner, b. 1834; married Grace------; went to Calif. but returned about 1915.

56 v Elizabeth Frances, b. 1837; married Fred or Frank Bryant.

57 vi Ann Maria, b. 1840; married a Lawrence, Mass., man.; her name stated as Maira in the Gilman Genealogy.

58 vii Mary Ellen, b. 1843; married Richard Johnson.

59 viii George W., b. 1846; married Sarah Hubbard.

60 ix Charles W. (or E. in Gilman Genealogy), b. 1849; married Nellie------.

61 x John T., b. 1852, d. 1855; the death record for this child states he "John J. Gilman, son of Simon J. Gilman, died Nov. 22, 1855, aged 3 years 10 months - see Biddeford, Me. records.

The writer has further information on the above children and their descendents which is omitted here for the sake of brevity. I also have photographs of some of those listed above.

NOTE: The following is from information compiled by the writer.

SIMON GRANDISON GILMAN,^{8} (Simon,^{7} Simon,^{6} Col. David,^{5} Israel,^{4} Jeremiah,^{3} Moses,^{2} Edward^{1}), son of Simon and Elizabeth (Huston) Gilman, born at Westbrook, Me., about June 29, 1831. Died at Hopedale, Mass., Aug. 7, 1896, age 65 years, 1 month, 8 days, burial at Village Cemetery, Hopedale, Grave record 1831-1896. Said by his daughter Sarah Elizabeth to have been 13 years old when his parents moved from Westbrook to Biddeford, Me. A machinist. Retired from the Kittery Navy Yard. He married Nov. 24, 1852, at Saco, Me., SARAH MARIA SUTHERLAND, daughter of George William and Joanna (Foss) Sutherland. She was born Apr. 28, 1833 at Saco, died Dec. 11, 1918, age 85 years, 7 months, 12 days; burial at Village Cemetery, Hopedale; her death occured at Milford, Mass., adjoining Hopedale, where she had ressided for 6 years; my brother, Rev. Harold Gilman McCann, officiated at the interment.

Simon G. Gilman, a resident of Biddeford, Me. at the time of his marriage, as was his wife, resided with his family in Biddeford, Saco and Kittery, Me., and in Milford and Hopedale, Mass. Removed from Biddeford after July 27, 1862 but before May 2, 1864. Moved to Milford after May 2, 1864, but before June 3, 1866. Moved to Hopedale sometime between Feb. 9, 1886 and Oct. 10, 1886; but living at Hopedale Dec. 3, 1884; resided at Saco again Aug. 9, 1870, then returned to Milford and Hopedale. The family done considerable moving about, particularly when it came time for him to retire from the Navy Yard.

At the time of the 1860 census enumeration the family resided at Biddeford, when it consited of Simon G., age 29; Sarah M., age 27; Edward O., age 5, and Freeman Pillsbury, age 2; all born in Me. At the time of the 1870 census enumeration, the residence was at Milford, when it consited of Simon G., age 39; Sarah M., age 37; Edward O., age 15; Freeman P., age 12; Henry S., age 10; Sarah E., age 6; and Frank L., age 4; all born in Me., except the last.

Here the Gilman Genealogy connects through Simon G. (54) above, and the Sutherland Genealogy at Sarah Maria (15), which see.

Children, born Biddeford and Saco, Me., and Milford, Mass.:

62 i Edward Oscar, b. Biddeford Oct. 19, 1854; died prior to 1920, probably buried at Saco. Married 1st Lilla Alberta Quinby, who soon died, leaving no children. Married 2d Amy Dow of Hampton, N.H. They had Ralph who died young; LeRoy Sutherland who died at Baltimore, Md. about 1935; and Marion, adopted, living Cambridge, Mass. He was a book salesman.

63 ii Freeman Pillsbury, b. Biddeford 1858; died Hopedale Feb. 9, 1886, age 27 years, 6 months, 24 days; burial at Hopedale. A machinist. Married Lottie Thompson of Calais, Me. 64 iii Henry Sutherland, b. Biddeford, July 30, 1860; died at Milford Aug. 2, 1883, age 23 years, 2 months. Henry J. in the birth record; Henry S. in the death record. Married Edith Acorn; had two or more children. Resided Boston and Hopedale. Burial at Norwood, Mass.

65 iv Frederick E., b. Biddeford July 27, 1862; died at Milford Sept. 10, 1868, age 6 years, 2 months; burial at Hopedale.

* 66 v Sarah Elizabeth,^{9} b. Saco, May 2, 1864; died Portland, Me. Feb. 2, 1928, age 63 years, 9 months; burial at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, South Portland, Me. Married at Hopedale (Milford record), Mass., Dec. 3, 1884, THOMAS NASH MCCANN, JR., son of Thomas Nash and Margaret Nuns (Alley) McCann, of Nantucket and Randolph, Mass.; Rev. Chas. M. Hall, officiated. He born at Randolph Apr. 10, 1857; died at South Portland, Me. Feb. 14, 1919, age 61 years, 10 months, 4 days; burial at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, South Portland. Her name stated on her death record as "Elizabeth G(ilman). McCann", which is as she signed her name after marriage. Before marriage known as Lizzie Gilman and her maiden name thus appears on some of the birth records for her children, but on that for the compiler it appears as Sarah E. Gilman, as it also is in the 1870 census.

Here the Gilman Genealogy connects through Sarah Elizabeth (66) above, with the McCann Genealogy through Thomas Nash McCann, Jr. at 2, which see.

67 vi Frank Lincoln, b. June 3, 1866 at Milford; died at Hopedale Oct. 10, 1886, age 20 years, 4 months, 7 days. Never married. Burial at Hopedale.

GEORGE SUTHERLAND

SUTHERLAND GENEALOGY

(Connects with Gilman Genealogy)

First Generation.

1

------- SUTHERLAND,[1] christian name unknown; was a resident of Edinburgh, Scotland, where he married ISABELLA MCKAY. Came to New York City with his family, where he stayed two or more years, then returned to Edinburgh, where both parents died within a few years after their return there.

Children:

2 i Mary,[2] born Edinburgh, Scotland, before the family came to New York; married a Mr. Munroe of Edinburgh.

* 3 ii William,[2] born New York City about 1769-70; married Sarah Rhodes; see 3

4 iii George,[2] born at sea on the return passage of his parents to Edinburgh, Scotland; became a jeweler in Edinburgh.

Second Generation.

WILLIAM SUTHERLAND,[2] (-------[1]), son of -------and Isabella (McKay) Sutherland, born New York City about 1769-70. Returned to Edinburgh, Scotland, with his parents after they had resided two or more years in New York. Upon the death of his parents, and when about 11 or 12 years of age, placed by his uncle ------- McKay, at a trade in New York City, which, he not liking, he ran away to sea; the uncle McKay, had become manager of the family property and guardian to the children. Next heard of in December, 1790, when as mate of a brig (probably brigantine CERES) cast away on Cape Cod, he was instrumental in saving the crew's effects, for which the members of the crew gave him a purse of $40.00. Following this incident, William came to Biddeford and Saco, Me., where he stopped at the Spring House in the former town. SARAH RHODES, afterwards the wife of William, was housekeeper of the Spring House at the time. He soon entered the service of Col. Thomas Cutts, owner of Factory (then Cutts) Island, as commander of one of his vessels. When not off on a voyage he continued to stop at the Spring House, where he became better acquainted with Sarah, the housekeeper and, having become attached to one another, they were married (Intentions July 12, 1792) by Jeremiah Hill, Esq., one of the Justices of the Peace in and for the town of Biddeford, Me. He, now Capt. William Sutherland, continued to sail for Col. Thomas Cutts, until the York Mfg. Co. got ownership of the Island, when the son of the Colonel, Foxwell Cutts, built the ship MOHAWK which Capt. William commanded. When his son George was four years old, in August, the MOHAWK cleared from Biddeford in ballast to Norfolk where tobacco was loaded, and to Charleston, where cotton was taken aboard. This was the vessel's second trip. She was not molested going, but upon her return trip from Hamburg was overhauled by a French Privateer and fired into and compelled to surrender. All members of the crew, with the exception of Capt. William and his mate David Windram, and two seamen, were removed and a prize crew placed on board. Although prisoners, Capt. William and his mate succeeded in retaking the vessel the following day, but an English Man-of-War appeared and removing the French crew, placed on board an equal number of English sailors and ordered the vessel into Jamaica for adjudication. However, another French Privateer appeared soon after the Man-of War was out of sight and retook the MOHAWK, escorting her into Basse-Terre, Guadeloupe, where Capt. William and his mate were thrown into prison. In time they were released. The mate got back to Pepperellboro (Saco, Me.) first. Capt. William stayed long enough to enter his protest with the English Consul, when he also returned to New York, where he immediately got a voyage as commander "being known as a Mason, and a member of a Lodge there". Capt. William continued to sail from New York for two or more years. Meanwhile, he had arranged for a house on Long Island and attempted to get his family moved there; visiting them when his son George was eight years old. But one thing and another went wrong with his plans, and becoming discouraged, he entered the Navy as Masters Mate aboard Gun Boat No. 162, which was assigned to the New Orleans station, where he was accidently shot and killed on Nov. 4, 1811 (1812 according to family records), at the age of 42; burial in the Protestant Burial Grounds, that place. The balance of the wages due him ($45.97) was ordered paid to the widow by the Navy Agent at Portland, Me., the order being signed by Const. Freeman, Auditor, Fourth Auditors Office, Treasuary Department, 4th May, 1820, No. 262 DD, and also bore the signatures of Richard Cutts for Thomas Shields, Purser; and of Benjm. Howard, Esq., Wash.; W. Boswell; and B. Howard. His wife Sarah, was born Pepperellboro (now Saco, Me.), Mass., in 1762; died Sept. 26, 1833. Her name is spelled "Roads" in the Intentions; "Rhodes" in family records; and "Rhoades" in the papers of George William Sutherland, her son. Possibly the daughter of Jacob and Ruth (Wildes) Rhodes of Kennebunkport, Me. (Arundel), who is listed as "Sally"; Jacob being the son of Miles, the latter the first Rhodes in Kennebunkport, and listed in the 1790 Census.

Children:

* 5 i George William,^{3} born Saco, Me., Oct. 24, 1793; married Joanna Foss; see 5

6 ii Isabella,^{3} born Saco, Me., Aug. 29, 1796; died Mar. 20, 1798.

Third Generation.

GEORGE WILLIAM SUTHERLAND,^{3} (William,^{2} -------^{1}), son of William and Sarah (Rhodes) Sutherland, born Saco, Me., Oct. 24, 1793; died Jan. 21, 1879, Saco, Me. Worked as a boy in the office of the "Freeman's Friend" at Saco and Portland, Me.; for Stephen Fairfield, hatter, in Saco, followed by some 14 years employment in the Water Power, Laconia, and Pepperell Mills. Town Clerk of Saco, probably the first, at age of 39; this compiler has a large portrait painting of this gentleman, his great-grandfather for whom he was named, made when Town Clerk. Served both in the war of 1812 and in the war of the Rebellion. In the war of 1812, enrolled in a company of militia commanded by James Curry, situated at the town of Pepperellboro (now Saco), and served through the years 1811-12-13-&-14. On or about Sept. 1, 1814, stood his chance in a draft and not being called, substituted the last week of Sept. 1814, for Thomas P. Tufts, in a company of artillery at York, Me., commanded by Josephus Howard York, at or near Fort McClang. Called to act in defense of the seaboard five times; in a call in June 1813:

> "------we were ordered to report at the Ferry so-called, three miles below the village of Saco, a seventy-four gun ship of the English Navy having anchored and surprised by her barges, inhabitants at the Pool lying near the lighthouse, seven miles below the villages of Biddeford and Saco. So quick were their operations that not only the firing and destruction of several vessels, but the cutting out of a ship called the VICTORY owned by Thomas Cutts, Esq., as well as also destroyed a new vessel then building. The ship VICTORY herein mentioned, was carried out and anchored near the seventy-four, all the destruction was completed before the militia did or could arrive at the scene of action, altho they hurried forward as fast as circumstances would admit. I was ordered at the time, to a station near the mouth of the river, to post a guard at that point, known as Baptace Point, on the Biddeford side of the river to guard the entrance communicating with the sea and in sight of said ship of seventy-four guns, called the BULWARCH and commanded by Commodore Milne, she being anchored a few miles east by south from Wood Island lighthouse. After three days was again ordered to the same point to guard by day and night, until a company of men, drafted for the purpose, should arrive to keep the post. When the first ship of the line called the WASHINGTON was launched at Kittery, Portsmouth Navy Yard, a draft was made of by Massachusetts and New Hampshire for troops to defend shiping and harbour. In this draft, I took the place of Thomas P. Tufts as his substitute in the Saco artillery, above-mentioned, under the command of Seth S. Fairfield, lieutenant, and proceeded to Kittery Point where we united with an equal number of York and Kittery men. The company, in command of Captain Howard continued to serve until November, when we were ordered home, where I continued to serve in the capacity of clerk in the militia; sergeant in artillery; quartermaster sergeant and sergeant major in the regiment; until 1820 when Maine was set off from Massachusetts." Ref. George Sutherland's Papers 1848 - 1878.

Warrants dated 15 Sept. 1815; 8 Sept. 1818; and 28 Aug. 1827; show that George William Sutherland continued to serve in the militia as follows: Sergeant of Jeremiah Milliken's company, Second brigade and Sixth Division of the Militia of Msss.; Quarter-master-sergeant of the First Regiment, Second brigade, and Sixth Division of the Militia of Mass. (John Spring Colonel); and Sergeant-Major of First Regiment, Second brigade, First Division of the Militia of Maine (Charles Hayes Colonel).

In the war of the Rebellion, he enlisted July 1, 1861, to serve in a company of artillery, number 'A', raised and organized and commanded by Ira Andrews, to serve as coast or home guards by order of Israel Washburn, Jr., Governor of the State of Maine. Sworn in July 9, at Biddeford, by Louis O. Cowan, Esq., and marched from there on 10 July, to Fort McClang, Kittery Point. Here served three months and eighteen days when, on 28 October, was duly mustered and sworn into the service of the United States, with others, by Major Eastman, mustering officer, to serve for the period of three years, unless sooner discharged. Served as private in the company for six months, lacking a few days. Discharged Sept. 13, 1862, as of Apr. 23, 1862, by reason of lameness. He received a pension of $8.00 per month commencing May 9, 1878, while living at 8 Summer Street, Saco, Me. (Certificate No. 24412 '1812').

George William Sutherland married (Sept. 11 ?), 1814, at Saco, Me., JOANNA FOSS, daughter of Capt. Walter and Hannah (   ) Foss, of Scarborough and Saco, Me. She was born Apr. 25, 1794, at Saco; died in the fall of 1866. He the author of "George Sutherland's Papers" herein referred to. Resided in Biddeford and Saco. The favorite grandfather of Sarah Elizabeth (Gilman) McCann, the compiler's mother. In addition to the portrait painting previously mentioned, this compiler also has a photograph made late in the life of this gentleman.

Children (born Saco, Me., except as noted):

7 i Mary Isabella,[4] born Dec. 20, 1814; died Nov. 30, 1818.

8 ii Jane Elizabeth,[4] born Dec. 27, 1815; married Deacon Samuel Pillsbury.

9 iii George William, Jr.,[4] born Apr. 21, 1817 (Aug. 21 according to family records); married Elizabeth Hall.

10 iv Charles Thomas,[4] born Nov. 3, 1819; died July 14, 1820.

11 v John Walter,[4] born Oct. 24, 1821; died Aug. 9, 1822 (Aug. 8, according to family records).

12 vi Nancy Pratt,[4] born Mar. 15, 1824; married 1st, Jed Boothby; 2d, Albert Dearbon.

13 vii Edward Oscar,[4] born Nov. 18, 1828; married Eliza Miller; resided Saco, Me. Went to Australian gold-diggings with others in 1853; wrote a journal of the voyage, a copy of which this compiler has. Was divorced by Eliza, who remarried. He never returned; no issue by the 1st union. Married 2d, (   ), in Australia, and when he died there, left a widow and two daughters.

14 viii Sarah Ann,[4] born Mar. 2, 1831 (1830 according to family records); died Jan. 16, 1833.

* 15 ix Sarah Maria,[4] born Apr. 28, 1833; died Milford, Mass., Dec. 11, 1918, aged 85 years, 7 months, 12 days; burial at Village Cemetery, Hopedale, Mass. Married Simon Grandison Gilman, son of Simon and Elizabeth (Huston) Gilman, of Westbrook and Biddeford, Me., in Saco, Me., Nov. 24, 1852; Rev. G. G. Strickland, officiated. Both of Biddeford at time of marriage. He born at Westbrook June 13 (or 29), 1831; died Hopedale, Mass., Aug. 7, 1896; burial at Village Cemetery, Hopedale. Here the Sutherland Genealogy connects through Sarah Maria (15) above, and Simon Grandison Gilman in the Gilman Genealogy, which see.

16 x Joanna,[4] born Dec. 13, 1834; died Dec. 13, 1835.

17 xi Henry Greene,[4] born Biddeford (or Saco), Me., Oct. 7, 1836 (Oct. 2, according to family records); married Hannah Frances Dorman.

Note: Two lists of the children of George and Joanna were provided the compiler in 1927; one the Sutherland Family Records referred to elsewhere; the other a list prepared by George himself and loaned from others by Harry William Sutherland, son of Henry Greene, above, for the convenience of this compiler. The latter list showed all the children; the Family Records do not show the last two in their proper place, although Henry Greene is shown in the marriages, where his birthplace is given as "Biddeford"; the list by George, the father, showed the birthplace of all as "Saco". Where there are differences in the dates of the two lists, those as given in the Family Records are in parenthesis. As to who has the missing list prepared by George himself, at this date, is unknown both to the compiler and to Mrs. William (Dorothy Sutherland) Hutchinson, only living daughter of Harry William Sutherland, son of Henry Greene. Harry William Sutherland, at the time the papers were made available to me, informed me that two or three dates in the Family Record were in error.

This compiler has a number of photographs of the children of George and Joanna, and some of the grandchildren, which were left by my mother, daughter of Sarah Maria (15) above. While I also have additional genealogical material on the children and their descendents, it has been omitted here for the sake of brevity. On the other hand, the events in the lives of William (3) and George (5), having moved the deepest feelings and fired the imagination, are detailed at length.

FOSS

WALTER FOSS, of Scarborough, Me.; married HANNAH-------; moved to Saco, Me. where he was known as Capt. Walter Foss. No attempt has been made to determine his parentage; there were a number of Walter Fosses in Scarborough, several of whom served in the Revolutionary war.

Children, born Scarborough:

i Abigail, b. Oct. 19, 1787.
ii Mary, b. Dec. 13, 1788.
iii Amelia , b. Aug. 23, 1790.

Children, born Saco:

iv Charles, b. July 19, 1792.
* v Joanna, b. Apr. 25, 1794; died in the fall of 1866; married George William Sutherland, son of Capt. William and Sarah(Rhodes) Sutherland, of Biddeford and Saco, Sept. 11, 1814, at Saco. He was born at Saco, Oct. 24, 1793. One of Joanna's sisters is known to have married a McClucas, another a Watson; the compiler has photographs of two persons of these names left by my mother. vi Dorothy, b. June 20, 1796.
vii Anna, b. May 23, 1798.
viii Florra, b. Oct. 21, 1800.
ix Thomas Jefferson, b. Dec. 11, 1802; died July 29, 1819.
x Foxwell Cutts, b. June 29, 1806; died Sept. 2, 1809.
xi Foxwell Cutts, b. Mar. 10, 1812.

GILMAN

The allied Hon. John Gilman Branch, is given on page 37-38, which see.

HERSEY (Hersie)

WILLIAM HERSEY,[1] of whom no further mention has been found in references readily available; apparantly resided at Hingham 1638, at least.

Children:

i Judith, bapt. Hingham, July 15, 1638; sister of Elizabeth, wife of Moses Gilman; aunt of Maria born Hingham Jan. 12, 1677-8, and of Peter born Hingham Aug. 20, 1687, son of John and Sarah.

* ii Elizabeth,[2] married Moses Gilman.

HUSTON

ELIZABETH HUSTON, daughter of Robert and Sarah (Jones) Huston, married at Westbrook, Me., SIMON GILMAN, father of Simon Grandison Gilman, and grandfather of Mrs. Thomas N. (Sarah Elizabeth Gilman) McCann, according to the latter, the mother of the compiler. The marriage record of "Simon Gilman, residence Westbrook, Maine, and Elizabeth Huston, residence Westbrook, Maine, married at Westbroo, Maine, Oct. 30, 1825, by Rev. Caleb Bradley" is on record at Westbrook - Vol. 1, page 152; Intentions Vol. 1, page 35, a certified copy of which this compiler has. The death certificate of Simon G. Gilman, the son, reporting the death at Hopedale, Mass., Aug. 7, 1896, aged 65 years, 1 month, 8 days, showing him born at Westbrook, Me., the son of Simon Gilman and Elizabeth Houston, who were both born in "Maine", is on file in Mass. Dept. of Vital Statistics, Vol. 465, page 637, #14.

An excerpt of the genealogy "William Huston of Falmouth, Maine 1675 - 1740 and Some of His Descendents" by Mr. Philip H. Harris, provided me by Miss E. Marie Estes, Genealogist, is set forth below; the Elizabeth born Nov. 17, 1774 therein, however, is shown in the same communication by Miss Estes to have married Elijah

Knight, son of Job and Marrian; she died Oct. 6, 1859:

ROBERT HUSTON,^{3} (William,^{2} William^1), was born in Falmouth 12-14-1737; d. between 1780 and 1790; m. 12-3-1761 Sarah Jones of Scarborough. He resided on the Huston homestead on Duck Pond. He and his wife were Quakers.

Children b. in Falmouth:

i William b. 10-19-1762
ii John b. 9-19-1763
iii Stephen b. 1- 5-1765
iv Mehitabel b. 6-30-1766
v Ann b. 2-13-1768
vi Mary b. 9-13-1769
vii Robert b. 9-30-1771
* viii Elizabeth^4 b. 11-17-1774 (married ?)
ix Simon b. 5- 3-1775

Elizabeth, wife of Simon Gilman, evidently had a brother Albert, for the compiler has a photograph of Frances, wife of Albert Huston, left by my mother, daughter of Simon.

The Huston line connects with the Gilman Genealogy through Elizabeth, and Simon Gilman (46), which see.

SHAPLEIGH

ALEXANDER SHAPLEIGH,^{1} gentleman, eminent merchant, of Kingsweare, County Devon, England, and Kittery, Me. His large interests here looked after by the Treworgys and his son Nicholas. Here in person May 26, 1642. Died not long before July 6, 1650. His 1st wife unknown. He married 2d at St. Saviour's, Dartmouth, Dec. 12, 1602, JANE EGBEARE.

Children:

TREWORGYE

JAMES TREWORGYE,[1] Mr., of Kittery, married CATHERINE SHAPLEIGH, daughter of Alexander, at Kingsweare Mar. 16, 1617. At Kittery before June 1640. Came over about 1646; here in 1647. Dead July 2, 1650. She married 2d Edward Hilton; died May 30, 1676. The name now is Trueworthy in Me. Kingsweare a hamlet in Brixham.

Children:

i John, baptized at Kingsweare Sept. 30, 1618.
ii Nicholas,
iii Samuel.
iv Joanna.
v Lucy, about 46 in June 1678.
* vi Elizabeth,[2] age 33 in 1671; married John Gilman, son of Edward.

Here the Treworgye line connects with the allied Gilman line through Elizabeth (vi) above, and John,[2] father of Abigail (x) in the latter, which see. Reference Part V, Genealogical Dictionary.

WADLEIGH

JOHN WADLEIGH,[1] planter, at Saco and Wells; of unknown origin, but by Catholic record his daughter Mary was born at Bristol, near London. At Saco 1636. Selectman at Wells. Died July 7, 1671. Wife MARY; living 1664.

Children:

i Robert.

ii Mary,

* iii Joanna,[2] married 1st Jonathan Thing, 2d Bartholomew Tipping.

Here the Wadleigh line connects with the Thing line through Joanna (iii) and Jonathan Thing, father of Samuel (iv) in the latter, which see. Reference Part V, Genealogical Dictionary.

WIGGIN

CAPT. THOMAS WIGGIN,[1] gentleman; arrived at Salem, Mass., in the JAMES with 30 men, including Rev. Wm. Leveridge. Went directly to Piscataqua. Taxed in Hampton 1657. Wife Katherine. Died June 16, 1664. Very prominent; held many positions of trust.

Children, all baptized at Hampton, Sept. 20, 1641:

* i Andrew,[2] married Hannah Bradstreet.

ii Mary.

iii Thomas.

ANDREW WIGGIN,[2] Mr., about 65 in Aug. 1700. Married at Andover, June 3 or 8, 1659, HANNAH BRADSTREET, daughter of Gov. Simon Bradstreet. Died about Jan. 9, 1708-9. Of Stratham. She died Apr. 18, 1707, about.

Children:

x Abigail,

xi Sarah,

Here the Wiggin line connects through Mary (iv) above, with the Gilman Genealogy at Capt. Jeremiah (9), which see. Reference Part V, Genealogical Dictionary of Maine and New Hampshire, by Noyes, and Davis, (1938).

No effort has been made to collect information on the other allied lines, nor to verify information recorded from other sources; only those allied lines are mentioned on which information is readily available to the compiler and these are recorded for the information of members of the family who may wish to prepare an ancestral chart; such persons can readily collect information on other allied lines from existing genealogies.

While the compiler has additional genealogical information on the descendents of Simon^7 Gilman and Simon^8 Gilman, and a number of photographs of members of both these families, for the sake of brevity, such additional information has purposely been omitted. Such material as has been included in this supplement is intended especially to provide members of the family of Thomas N. and Sarah E. (Gilman) McCann with a brief history of their maternal lineage, and to provide leads for further research for those who may be interested in a comprehensive genealogy.

BRUNS GENEALOGY
(Revised)

(Replacing pages 56-64 inclusive, of An Account of the Family of Thomas Nash & Sarah Elizabeth Gilman McCann and Their Descendants - 1954, revised to meet the requirements of new information and knowledge gleaned from the registers of several Danish parishes; well documented. But for a full account of the background and lineage of the immigrant members of the Bruns families, and their settlement, genealogy and descendants in the U. S., see Genealogy and History of the Portland, Me. Bruns Families, Including The Brons Variation, in Denmark And America 1739 - 1956 (general title Bruns - Brons - Brøns Families In Denmark And America 1956), by this compiler; a new issue superseding and replacing that published in 1954 under the general title Bruns - Brons Genealogy).

Foreword

The Bruns line had its origin in the northern zone of the duchy of Schleswig (Slesvig), Denmark, now known as North Schleswig (Nordslesvig) or the South Jutland Provinces (Sønderjylland). The duchy of Schleswig was taken from Denmark by Prussia and Austria in 1864, and annexed to Prussia in 1866 as part of the province of Schleswig-Holstein. In 1920 in accordance with a plebiscite held in obedience with the Treaty of Versailles, the northern zone of Schleswig was returned to Denmark. With two or three exceptions the members of the immigrant families were born before Schleswig was taken from Denmark, and with the exception of one family which emigrated in 1861, all fled Schleswig after it was annexed to Prussia.

The surname Bruns is the Anglicized form of Brøns, the name of a Danish town and parish situated in the northwestern part of the South Jutland Province of Schleswig. It is in the little parish town of Brøns, located about ten miles south of Ribe, that the progenitors of the emigrant families and some of their progeny were born and grew to manhood. Those members of the several families of the name of Brøns who emigrated to the U. S., Anglicized their surname. However, the progeny of one immigrant couple took the variation Brons when later they left their step-parents' home to found for themselves, even though their father had used the Anglicized form of his surname. Thus the general title for the parent work.

The real ancestral name of the families is Andersen, but in consequence of the interchange of surnames, the family name became Brøns. The common Danish ancestor of these families derived the family name Andersen from his father, whose Christian name was Anders, from the old Danish custom of children being given a family surname formed of their father's Christian name with the patronymic ending -sen. And from the additional custom of adding to the family name a descriptive surname used to distinguish different members of the same family, or individuals of the same name, the name Terp, relating to the place of birth, was added after marriage by the ancestor himself as a second surname.

However, the ancestor's sons were baptized with a double surname. Except in one instance, the first of these---the family surname---was Nielsen, given them in the same manner as the ancestor himself derived the surname Andersen.

One son only was given the family surname Sørensen (another old Danish custom whereby one or more sons of the same family were often given different family surnames, other instances of which will be found recorded in the parent work). All the sons, however, were given the descriptive (or second) surname, Brøns, after their place of birth. The lone daughter was given the single surname, Terp. The family surname Nielsen is missing from the baptismal record of the son Elias, in which he is listed as: "Elias Brøns," but this probably is an error in recording since he was married as: "Elias Nielsen," not Elias Brøns nor Elias Nielsen Brøns.

Hence the family name Sørensen would be the real surname of the descendants of one of the sons, and Nielsen that for those of the other sons, were it not that all were baptized with the second surname, Brøns. Indeed, not only was the son Elias married as Nielsen, but three of his children and four of the ten children of the son Jens were baptized Nielsen, and in the baptismal record for his first child, the son Jens is therein called: Jens Nielsen." With two exceptions, the children of all the sons were confirmed with the surname Brøns. It was about this time that the old custom of name-giving began to change, since when children born in Denmark have been given the surname of the father. Daughters were usually recorded by their Christian names followed by the father's Christian name to which 'datter' (daughter) was added in the following manner: "Else Jensdatter"; "Kirstine Marie Christensdatter," etc. Customs of recording by the different pastors no doubt account for some of the seeming discrepancies in the names.

The common ancestor of the several families of the name of Brøns that emigrated to Portland, Me., was Niels Andersen, alias Niels Andersen-Terp. He was the youngest son of Anders Madsen from the parish of Vejrup who died a farmer at Terp on 7 May 1816, aged 77 years, and El Lauritzdatter who was baptized ("El Laurs Nissen's child") 16 June 1743 in the church at Bramming, the daughter of "Laurs Nissen (Lauritz Nissen) from Nørhaa and Maren Nielsdatter from Terp" who married 6 July 1739 in the parish church at Bramming. The ancestor's parents were married 30 Oct. 1770, in the church at Bramming; they had five children, viz:

Children of Anders Madsen and El Lauritzdatter (El, nee Lauritsen). Baptized in the church at Bramming. Surname Andersen:

i MADS ANDERSEN, bapt. 4 July 1773, ii LAUST ANDERSEN, bapt. 19 Feb. 1775, iii MAREN ANDERSDATTER, bapt. 12 Jan. 1777, iv JOHANNE ANDERSDATTER, b. 7 Nov. 1779 at Terp; bapt. 14 Nov. 1779; d. 12 Jan. 1781 in Terp.
* v NIELS ANDERSEN, b. 25 July 1782 at Terp; bapt. 28 July 1782.

NIELS ANDERSEN (Niels Andersen-Terp), Danish ancestor of the Portland, Me. Bruns families, and great-grandfather of Anna Marie (Bruns) McCann, born 25 July 1782 in the town of Terp, Bramming parish, Gørding District, Ribe County, North Jutland, Denmark, and baptized "Niels Andersen" on 28 July 1782 in the parish church of Bramming, died ("Niels Andersen Terp"), 15 Sept. 1866, in the town and parish of Brøns, Hviding District, Tønder County, Schleswig, South Jutland, Denmark, aged 85-1/4 years, Cottager and Annuitant in Brøns.

(Note- Tradition has it that the ancestor was a veteran of the Napoleonic wars in Russia---he had been with Napoleon I in 1812 and joined the group that fled to the Black Sea. After seven years absence he returned home to find that a brother had usurped his rightful inheritance of their father's estate, name and, according to one legend, his betrothed. Angered, he renounced the family; left his ancestral home; went to the west coast of Schleswig; and their settled in the town of Brøns, where he changed his name.)

He, "Niels Andersen," accompanied by Else Jensdatter Nederbye, cotters, settled in the town of Brøns in January 1819, where in the parish church on 12 Feb. 1819, they were married. Both had had natural smallpox before coming to Brøns. At the time of their marriage, both were employed in Brøns, one in the Inn there, the other on a large farm, Holmgaard. Lars Willadsen of Holmgaard, and Mathias Jensen, farmer and innkeeper at Brøns, were sponsors at the wedding.

Else was born in the town of Kærbøl (Kjærbøl), Farup parish (Nør Fardrup), Ribe District, Ribe County, and baptized 15 May 1796 in the church of Farup, daughter of Jens Christensen Nederbye and wife Sidsel (Zidsel) Sørensdatter, who married 29 Dec. 1795 in the church of Farup. She, "Cotter Niels Andersen Terp's wife in Brøns," died in Brøns 13 Jan. 1853; known as "Elsa Maria" to the grandchildren.

Else's father, Jens Christensen Nederbye, Cottager and joiner at Kærbøl, was born in Ferring parish, Vandfuld District, Ringkøbing County, and baptized 12 Mar. 1769 in the church of Ferring, son of Christen Madsen Nederbye and wife Else Pedersdatter Søndergaard who married 5 Jan. 1762 at Ferring. He died 14 Aug. 1848 at Kærbøl; burial in the parish of Farup. "Nederbye' is the name of a village in the parish of Trans, not far from the parish of Farup; one of the ancestors of Jens Christensen Nederbye might have come from this village to Ferring. He married, secondly, Else Christensdatter. After the death of Christen Madsen Nederbye (21 Nov. 1771 at Ferring, aged 42 years) Else Pedersdatter Søndergaard married, secondly, 8 Dec. 1775, Jonas Hansen, in the church at Ferring.

Else's mother, Sidsel, was born in the parish of Farup, Ribe District, Ribe County, and baptized 1 Oct. 1769 in the church at Farup, daughter of Søren Sørensen and wife Birthe Andersdatter at Farup, who married 6 Dec. 1760 in the church at Farup. She died in 1811, buried 28 Nov. at Farup, survived by her husband and four children; Søren Jørgensen Toft at Kærbøl became guardian to the children.

Else's parents, Jens Christensen Nederbye and first wife, Sidsel, had four children, viz:

i Else Jensdatter, 15 years old in 1811; b. in Kærbøl, Farup parish, bapt. 15 May 1796 at Farup, ii Birthe Marie Jensdatter, 13 years old in 1811, iii Elisabeth Jensdatter, 11 years old in 1811, iv Christen Jensen, 7 years old in 1811.

(Note- In one or two instances, parochial registers at Brøns show Else (wife of Niels Andersen Terp) as: "daughter of Jens Nielsen." The Landsarkivar at Viborg, who looked into the discrepancy for this compiler, wrote: "I think it to be without any doubt that Else is the daughter of Jens Christensen Nederbye and Sidsel Sørensdatter." Several records were quoted in support of his statement.)

The ancestor had seven children. Excepting only the son Anders N., born 3 Aug. 1833, and the son Jef S., all the ancestor's Danish-born descendants---rather, all others who did not die young---emigrated to Portland, Me., embracing three sons, two with wives, and the widow of another; nineteen grandchildren, one with wife; and two great-grandchildren.

Children of Niels Andersen-Terp and wife Else born and bapt. in Brøns, Denmark:

i ANDERS NIELSEN BRØNS, b. 16 Mar. 1819; d. 19 Aug. 1830. The father is listed as: "Niels Andersen" in the baptismal record.

* ii JENS NIELSEN BRØNS, b. 23 Mar. 1821. The father is listed as: "Niels Andersen Terp" in the baptismal record; the 1st instance wherein the alias "Terp" appears.

iii JEF SØRENSEN BRØNS, b. 25 May 1824, bapt. at home 26 May 1824, presented in the church at Brøns, 4 July 1824; d. 23 Sept. 1889 in Brøns. He m. 11 Jan. 1855, in Brøns, Marie Møller, age 29, from Høyrup parish, daughter of Mathias M. and Else Møller, who after his d. emigrated to Portland, Me., where she ("Marie Bruns") d. 20 Dec. 1899. There were five children, all of whom emigrated to Portland, 1872-1888, viz: Niels A., Mathias M., Else C., Elsine M., and Cecilia; Mathias M. emigrated with wife Marie C., nee Boes, and sons Jens C. and Marinus J., having m. at Skanderborg, 27 Nov. 1883, Marie Christine Boes, daughter of Christian, glazier there.

iv ELIAS NIELSEN BRØNS, b. "Elias Brøns" 29 Mar. 1827, bapt. 29 Mar. at home, presented in the church at Brøns 16 Apr. 1827; d. 22 June 1872 at Portland, Me., to where he had emigrated earlier in that year with his family. He m. ("Elias Nielsen") 13 Nov. 1858, at Møgeltønder, Hanna Marie Hansen from Gallehus, b. 18 Mar. 1833, daughter of Nis Hansen and his 1st wife Maren Børichs, who after his death m. at Portland, Mikkel Jensen; she d. during the summer of 1877 in Clinton, Iowa. There were four children, two of whom d. as infants ("Nielsen") in Denmark, the other two, Niels N. (b. "Brøns") and Hans N. (b. "Nielsen"), came to the U. S. with their parents. It is the latter two members of the families only who later took the variation of their surname, Brons; both migrated west with their mother and stepfather, and eventually settled on the coast.

vi ANDERS NIELSEN BRØNS, b. 3 Aug. 1833; d. 13 Oct. 1884 at Kjærbølling; m. 9 June 1871 at Rejsby, the widow Maren (Nielsen) Andersen from Kjærbølling, age 42, b. in Jernved, daughter of Niels and Maren (Hansen) Brodersen; no issue, but she had four children by her previous marriage; her d. record could not be located. He came to the U. S. with Mads (below) but returned to Denmark about 1870; is listed as: "Anders Nielsen Terp" in his confirmation record!

vii MADS NIELSEN BRØNS, b. 14 Feb. 1837, bapt. 19 Mar. 1837 in the church at Brøns; d. 30 Dec. 1915 at Portland, Me., to where he emigrated with his family in 1861. He m. (1st) 10 July 1857 at Agerskov, Nørre-Rangstrup District, Maren Thomsen of Gammelskov, daughter of Marcus Thomsen, age 23-1/2, b. in Stepping, who divorced him at Portland and d. there 26 July 1910. He m. 2d, at Portland, 3 Dec. 1887 Charlotte Elizabeth Gildart of Elgin, N.B., who d. at Portland 10 Oct. 1918. Mads had seven children by each union, only two: Else M. N. and Anna C. born in Denmark; both children came to the U. S. with their parents. He is listed as: "Niels Madsen Brøns" when at the age of 16 years he left the parish as a joiner apprentice!

(Note- It has been established that the ancestor had no son Søren nor a brother Christian Andersen Brøns, as previously published. See the parent work. All the ancestor's children and their offspring are accounted for.)

JENS NIELSEN BRØNS (Jens Nielsen, Jens Nielsen Bruns), Danish progenitor of the "Rapsted Brøns line," and grandfather of Anna Marie (Bruns) McCann, born 23 Mar. 1821 (not 1819) in Brøns, parish town of Brøns parish, Hviding District, Tønder County, Schleswig, South Jutland, Denmark, the second son ---the first died young---of Niels Andersen-Tarp and his wife Else Jensdatter Nederbye who married 12 Feb. 1819 in the church at Brøns, was baptized at home 24 Mar. 1821, presented in the church at Brøns on 23 Apr. 1821, and confirmed 1836 in Brøns church.

He removed from Brøns parish to Ballum parish, Tønder County, where on 18 Apr. 1850, he, "Joiner Jens Nielsen Brøns, bachelor, born 1819 (sic; born 1821 not 1819) in Brøns," then of Harknag, Ballum parish, married in the church at Ballum, Kirstine Marie Nicolaisen, single, of Harknag.

Kirstine was born 28 Oct. 1824 in Vesterende, Ballum parish, baptized at home on day of birth, confirmed 3 Mar. 1839 at Ballum, daughter of Cottager Christen Nicolaisen and wife Voldborg Hansdatter, lacemaker of Vesterende. She did not come to the U. S., but died in a refuge in the city of Schleswig, Germany, on 25 Jan. 1889. Formerly listed as " Kjstine Maria Skov," but born 'Nicolaisen'* not 'Skov,' although both she and her father was in daily talk, called 'Skov' (in Rapsted records; 'Schov' and 'Schou' in Ballum records) until that name also found its way into the registers. However, these names are not to be found in either her birth or baptismal records, either in reference to her or her father (See Note, p. 11 of the parent work).

Kirstine's father, Christian Nicolaisen, listed as: "Christian Nicolaisen Schov," "Christian Nicolaisen Schou" and "Christian Nicolaisen Skov," in some records, of Østerende, Ballum parish, born 22 June 1801 (1800 in one record) in Roager parish, married (first) 25 Apr. 1824, in the church at Ballum, Voldborg Hansdatter ("Walborg Kjestine" in husband's death record), of Vesterende, born 6 Apr. 1803 in Vesterende, daughter of Hans Madsen. She died 30 Nov. 1826, buried at Ballum. Besides Kirstine, there was a son Thomas Nicolaisen who died single (by drowning in Calif., according to Niels A. N. Brøns).

"Christian Nicolaisen Schou" married secondly, in Ballum, 31 Oct. 1830, Maren Sørensdatter, (daughter of Søren Matthiesen and wife Else Marie, nee Sørensen in Naibjerg-Timmering, Jylland), born 1798 in Aulum parish (Winding parish in one record), removed from Aulum to Ballum parish in 1828, died 2 Feb. 1880 in Fogderup, Rapsted parish. By this union there were, besides two children that died young, Margrethe Nicolaisen who married Knud Christensen Kirkeby of Husby parish, Ulvborg District, Jylland, and Søren Nicolaisen who died single at sea.

Christian Nicolaisen (Schou), his wife Maren, their daughter Margrethe and son Søren, removed from Ballum parish to Rapsted parish, Tønder County, 26 Sept. 1856, where he died 21 Aug. 1877. He was the son of Nicolai Sørensen and wife Margrethe, nee Andersen in Kirkeby, Roager parish. His second wife, Maren, outlived him.

Jens Nielsen Brøns removed from Ballum parish to Rapsted parish, Tønder County, 2 Nov. 1854, with his wife Kirstine and four children born in Ballum. There he settled on a small farm in the parish town of Rapsted——in Rapsted field, Slogs District. In Rapsted (Rawsted) six more children were born to the village carpenter and his wife Kirstine (Christine Marie, nee Nicolaisen, in Rapsted records).

During the years 1870-1884, Jens' boys, grown to manhood, fled Schleswig to escape military service under the Germans——Prussia having taken all Schleswig in 1864. And the girls, realizing that the duties of active life required that they too must leave the shelter of the home, followed the migration to Portland, Me. started by their father's brother Mads in 1851. Jens sold the Rapsted homestead to farmer Peter Ludwig Hansen of Knivsig in 1883, and together with his youngest son, Anders Nielsen Brøns, emigrated to Portland via N. Y. City, arriving at the latter place on 25 May 1884. There he Anglicized his surname, Bruns, as did all his children before him. He, "Jens Nielsen Bruns," died at Portland, 28 Feb. 1892, survived by all his children and their offspring; burial in the Carlsen plot at Forest City Cemetery, South Portland. A description and pictures of the old Rapsted Brøns homestead appear in the parent work. There were ten children, viz:

Children of Jens Nielsen Brøns and wife Kirstine
4 born in Ballum, 6 born in Rapsted, Denmark:

i JULDINE METTELINE NIELSEN BRØNS (Lena, Metta Lena, Madlyn), b. 31 May 1849 in Harknag, Ballum, ("father Jens Nielsen of Ravsted"---see the parent work), bapt. "Johanne Marie Grydgaard" at Troltofthede, Denmark, 8 Feb. 1871, d. 26 Sept. 1924 at Portland. He d. at Bath, Me., 31 Dec. 1929. She was the daughter of Jens and Marianne (Larsen). There were nine children, viz: Jens N., Marie Christine, Alice May, Otto A., Philip Otto, Henry J., Morris Arthur, Amelia Eleanor, and Anders Norman.

NIELS ANDERSEN NIELSEN BRØNS (Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns, Niels A. N. Bruns), American ancestor of the "Niels A. N. Bruns line" in the U. S., and father of Anna Marie (Bruns) McCann, born 17 Jan. 1851 in Vesterende, Ballum parish, Tønder County, Schleswig, South Jutland, Denmark, elder son of Jens Nielsen

Brøns(Bruns) and wife Kitstine Marie, nee Nicolaisen, who married 18 Apr. 1850 in the church at Ballum, was baptized "Niels Andersen Nielsen" in Ballum church on 20 Feb. 1851, and confirmed "Niels Andersen Nielsen Brøns" in the parish church in the town of Rapsted, Rapsted parish, Denmark, 25 Mar. 1866.

He emigrated to Portland, Me. via Quebec, Cda., arriving at Portland on 28 Sept. 1872, where he Anglicized his surname, Bruns, and was naturalized 8 Sept. 1880. Niels A. N. Bruns, The Immigrant, died at Portland (Deering), Me., 17 July 1922; burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth, Me.

Prussia and Austria having taken Schleswig from Denmark in 1864, and Niels having been ordered to appear in a draft for the Prussian army in 1870, he fled from Schleswig, and together with two friends who likewise were escaping the draft, obtained work fishing to earn passage to the U. S. The trio eventually made their way to England, where they managed to get aboard the S. S. BUDA, on which the trip to Canada was made. Once in Quebec, Niels contacted his uncle, Mads Nielsen Bruns at Portland, who arranged for him to come there.

After brief employment as a stevedore at Portland, and as an employee of the Portland Company there, Niels went into business for himself as a building contractor, in which work he was successful. He directed the work of building the First Lutheran Church at Portland in 1878; one of several Danes and other Scandinavians who offered their labor and subscribed to its building fund. A man of honor and correct habits; fair in all his business relations; revered by his children and respected by all who knew him; never seen in anger; Niels A. N. Bruns was an outstanding and worthy representative of the family name. In religion a Lutheran; in politics a Republican.

Niels A. N. Bruns married (first), in The First Lutheran Church at Portland, 1 June 1879, KAREN SOPHIE ANDERSEN,# born 21 May 1851 (not 13 May 1852), in the village of Skuldelev (Skuldelev pr. Krogstrup), Horns District, Frederiksborg County, Seeland (Sjælland), Denmark, and baptized 3 Aug. 1851, in the parish church there, daughter of Anders Pedersen (not Petersen), farmer in Skuldelev and later of Gamløse on the Isle of Ourø (pr. Holbæk), (next to Horns District in Isefjord), and his wife Ane Sofie Olsdatter (Ane Sofie, nee Olsen); Rev. N. J. Ellestad officiated; said to be the first couple to wed in that church. She emigrated to Portland shortly before 1872; died in Cumberland, Me. (record at Falmouth, Me.), 5 Mar. 1895; burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth.

He married, secondly, in the First Lutheran Church at Portland, Clara Elizabeth Wilhelmsen# 27 Jan. 1896, who was born 23 June 1860 in Mandal, Norway, daughter of Peter Andreas Wilhelmsen, jailor at Mandal, and his wife Anna Otilie Lebahn Wilhelmsen; Rev. Knut O. Storli officiated. She arrived at Portland 11 Sept. 1894; died 8 Apr. 1940 in Freeport, Me.; burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth.

There were four births in each marriage; his posterity is represented by the descendants of the children listed below, but his line will become extinct with the death of the children now living for neither of the sons have issue. However, through the daughters the blood now flows in 26 descendants.

Foreword

The Andersen line had its origin in the village of Skuldelev, Selsø Pastorat pr. Krogstrup, Horns District, Frederiksborg County, Seeland (Sjælland, the main island of), Denmark, where the Danish ancestor, Anders Pedersen, with his wife Ane Sofie Olsdatter (nee Olsen), were farmers.

The ancestor derived the family surname Pedersen from his father, whose Christian name was Peder, from the old Danish custom of children being given a surname formed of their father's Christian name with the patronymic ending -sen. And in the same manner, the children of the ancestor derived the family surname, Andersen, from their father's Christian name, Anders.

ANDERS PEDERSEN (formerly listed as Anders Petersen), grandfather of Anna Marie (Bruns) McCann, was born 4 Apr. 1815, in the village of Skuldelev, Seeland, Denmark, and baptized the same day at home, presented in the church at Skuldelev, 28 May 1815, son of Gaardmand (farmer) Peder Hansen and his wife Ane Sørensdatter (nee Sørensen). He was confirmed 26 Apr. 1829, in the church at Skuldelev. Nothing further is known of his lineage or background, but at the time of the baptism of four of his children, there was a Frederik Pedersen, a smith in Skuldelev, who could suffice as a brother to Anders Pedersen. And this Frederik Pedersen's grandson, also named Frederik Pedersen, now lives in the village of Skuldelev, but he could not (or would not) impart any information about his lineage; he also is a smith and trades in farm machinery. Also, Anna Andersen, eldest child of Anders Pedersen, returned to Skuldelev from Ourø---to where the family removed in 1856---to be a servant for farmer Søren Hansen, "in all probability her father's father" (---a conjecture by Pastor Leif Kolpen, Oruø pr. Holbæk, Seeland); the father's father was Peder Hansen---baptismal record in Skuldelev register. The ancester, Anders Pedersen, then 26, farmer in Skuldelev, married, 18 Dec. 1841 in Herslev parish church (Herslev-Gevninge Pastorat---at the southern end of Roskilde Fjord), Ane Sophie Olsdatter (nee Olsen), age 28, farmer in Kattinge. She was baptized at home 31 Oct. 1813, presented in church at Herslev, 5 Dec. 1813, daughter of Ole Hansen, farmer, and wife Marie Larsdatter (nee Larsen), of Kattinge; she was presented by Peder Hansen's wife from Karleby. At the baptism of five of her children one of the godfathers was one Ole Olsen, farmer in Skuldelev, who could suffice as the brother of Ane Sophie Pedersen, nee Olsen, born in 1813.

All eight children of Anders Pedersen and wife Ane Sophie, nee Olsen, were born in Skuldelev, and all were baptized there. But on 20 Sept. 1856, the ancestor moved his family to the village of Gamløse, Ourø pr. Holbæk, arriving there on 6 Oct. 1856. The first three of the eight unconfirmed children with them were confirmed in the church at Ourø, in 1857, 1858 and 1860, respectively. However, the family left Ourø and returned to Skuldelev in 1860 or before, for at the confirmation of Mariane Andersen, daughter, in 1860, then a maid in Ourø, the parents are stated as living in Skuldelev. But on 9 Nov. 1860, Mariane left Ourø for Sæby in Horns District, returning to Ourø on 1 Nov. 1861, as maid in the home of the Pastors.

Nothing further is known of the ancestor and his wife. A record of their deaths could not be found, nor of their place of residence after leaving Ourø. It is said his wife took the children and left him; the girls going to work at an early age, the mother, herself a farmer, obtaining work at times plowing for others to provide for the children.

Children of Anders Pedersen and wife Ane; all born and baptized in Skuldelev, Denmark

(Surname Andersen)-

BRUNS GENEALOGY

The Bruns line---the Portland, Maine Bruns families---from whom Anna Marie (Bruns) McCann is descended, originated in the duchy of Schleswig, South Jutland, Denmark, their ancestral home being in the area now known as Danish Schleswig or The South Jutland Provinces. From 1864 until 1920, Schleswig was a part of Schleswig-Holstein, a province of Germany.

The surname Bruns is the anglicized form of the Danish Brőns. Those members of the family who emigrated to Maine took the anglicized form of the name. However, the progeny of one emigrant member retained the spelling Brons but dropped the umlaut upon removing from Maine to Iowa and eventually to the State of Washington. In this paper for the sake of simplicity, the umlaut is dropped from all surnames and place names; the name Bruns is used to denote the city of Brőns and those who took the anglicized form of the name, as well as members of the family who remained in or returned to, Denmark, and the name Brons is used to denote only those who retained such spelling.

The "old country" ancestor of the several families of the name of Bruns who settled in the Portland, Me. area---the emigrant progenitor of the related Brons families of the west coast areas came to Portland, Me. and there used the surname Bruns---was Niels Andersen Terp, who with Else, Jens' daughter, cotters, settled in Bruns Parish in 1819. Else died in Bruns Jan. 13, 1854 after suffering a long illness from rheumatism. She was born in Norre Farup, daughter of Jens Nielsen. At her death she is mentioned as "Indsidder" (one living in a house without any surrounding ground), Niels Andersen Terp's wife in Bruns. A record of the death of Niels Andersen Terp has not been found.

Traditional accounts have it that this ancestor of the Bruns families was born on the east coast of Schleswig. A veteran of the Napoleonic wars in Russia---with Napoleon I in 1812---he joined the group that fled to the Black Sea. Returning home after seven years absence he found that a younger brother had usurped his rightful inheritance of their father's estate, name and everything. The parents had presumed the soldier had lost his life in the battle. This angered him, whereupon he left the ancestral home, went to the west coast of Schleswig, settled in the city of Bruns, and changed his patronymic, taking the name of Bruns after the city where he settled. It appears, according to this tradition, that all young men excepting the oldest son of a landed family had to serve for a time in the armed forces. For some reason not stated, the younger brother did not want to serve and the two brothers made a pact; the older brother went to war and the other took his place at home.

There is evidence that Else's middle name was "Maria"; she was known to her grandsons as "Elsa Maria". The name of the ancestor and that of his wife Else, as well as the list of their children has been corroborated by information provided by Rev. Anders Malling, Pastor at Bruns Parish. For a more complete account of the Bruns families, see the parent paper from which this information has been taken.

Children (Bruns, Brons & Terp), born in Bruns, Danish Schleswig:

i Anders Nielsen Bruns, born Mar. 16, 1819; died Aug. 19, 1830-31.

* ii Jens Nielsen Bruns, born Mar. 23, 1821 (about Mar. 23, 1819, according to his death record); confirmed 1836-parents small farmers. He married Kystine Maria Skov. See 1

iii Jef Sorensen Bruns, born May 25, 1824; died Sept. 23, 1889 in Bruns; he married Jan. 11, 1855, Marie Moller from Hojrup Parish, 29 years old. She emigrated to Portland, Me. 1890 after his death; his 5 children emigrated to Portland 1872-1890; she died at Portland 1899.

iv Elias Nielsen Brons, born Mar. 29, 1827; confirmed Apr. 23, 1843. Married Hanna Marie Hansen, probably in Mogeltonder; resided in Bruns, Gallehus and Abild; emigrated to Portland, Me. 1872 with wife and two sons; died at Portland, 1872. Although he used the name Bruns at Portland, it is his posterity only that spells the surname Brons. His descendents reside on the west coast; his son Hans now the oldest living member of all the Bruns-Brons families, ~~and the only one living born abroad.~~ Born "Bruns"

v Cilla Marie Terp, born Jan. 23, 1830; died Feb. 19, 1835; baptized "Terp" although her brothers are all called "Bruns".

vi Anders Nielsen Bruns, born Aug. 3, 1833, confirmed May 25, 1849. He received the same name as the first son, who had died 3 years previously. According to Niels, son of Jens, Anders married Mrs. Brodersen, widow, and settled in Kjarbolling, no issue as far as known; her son Rasmus emigrated to Nebraska and there married Matta Lena, daughter of Jens Nielsen Bruns, above listed. Was to Australia with Mads, his brother, and in business for a few years with him at Portland, Me.

vii Mads Nielsen Bruns, born Feb. 14, 1837, confirmed Apr. 18, 1852. He married 1st in Denmark, Marion Thompson, daughter of Mark and Anna C. (Peterson) Thompson, of Denmark; she stated as "Marie L." in 1870 U. S. Census enumeration of Portland, but as "Marion T." in other records. He married 2d at Portland, Me., Charlotte Elizabeth Gildart, of Elgin, N.B. Died at Portland, Me. 1915. Had seven children by each union, only the first two born in Denmark. In business at Portland for years (1861 on) as cabinet-maker, maker of show cases and piano-dulcimers, and pattern-maker.

viii Soren Nielsen Bruns, married, lived in Ballum, Schleswig, and had children, according to Niels, son of Jens, who himself was born in Ballum, but Soren is not included in the list of children furnished by Pastor Malling; Niels appeared certain of Soren, and listed him among the older children; there is no record or other tradition among the descendents here, however, yet because Niels' account of the family in Denmark and America has proven so accurate I feel confident there was such a son.

According to Pastor Malling previously referred to, Niels Andersen Terp had a brother Christian Andersen Bruns, Gaardmand (owner of a large farm), in Astrup, who was born in Mjolden, and died June 5, 1857, 47 years old, a son of Anders Bruns. From this it might appear that the original family name was Bruns and the ancestor took the name Terp. However it may be, Niels Andersen Terp is recorded at Bruns as the father of the above-listed children, except for Soren, who may have been born outside Bruns Parish. Pastor Malling's list includes the children of Jef as well.

JENS NIELSEN BRUNS,[1] emigrant, was born Mar. 23, 1821, in Bruns parish, Danish Schleswig. He married, probably in Bruns, KYSTINE MARIA SKOV, daughter of Christian and Volbina, of Bruns. Her name stated as Christine Nielsen in the death record of the son Anders Nelson Bruns, but as Marie C. Skove in the death record of the son Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns. She is known to have had a brother Torn who was drowned in Calif., and another Soren, a sailor, who was single when last heard from. He the son of Nielsen Bruns and Else Bruns, according to his death record. Resided in Ballum and Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. In demand in the latter place as a cabinet-maker and manufacturer of coffins. Ten of his children emigrated to Portland, Me. before he did. Following the death of his wife he emigrated to Portland, probably May 25, 1884, with his youngest son. Resided in Falmouth and Portland, Me., with his daughters Elsa Maria (Bruns) Miller, and Sina (Bruns) Carlsen, respectively, at which homes he was provided with a warm workshop. Employed as a cabinet-maker and builder in Portland. A man of small physical stature, he used tobacco to excess but was idolized by his grandchildren. His grandchildren, Mrs. A. Iver Poulsen and Mr. Lauritz N. Miller, now the only descendents who can remember him. His was a remarkable family of tall strong men and handsome women. He died at Portland Feb. 28, 1892.

Children (Bruns) born in Ballum and Rapsted, Danish Schleswig:

2 i Mattalena, (Lena), born May 31, 1849, probably in Ballum; emigrated to Portland, but moved on west to Nebraska, where she married in 1874, probably at Blair, but possibly at Omaha or Ft. Calhoun, Rasmus Brodersen, who came to Nebraska shortly before 1868. They settled on a large farm near Herman. He died June 27, 1900, near Herman, having been born Mar. 4, 1843 in Danish Schleswig. She died Feb. 11, 1914, in or near Herman. There were eight children.

* 3 ii Niels Anderson Nelson,[2] born Jan. 17, 1851, in Ballum, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to Portland, Me., via Quebec, Cda., Sept. 29, 1872. Married 1st, at Portland, Karen Sophie Andersen; married 2d also at Portland, Clara Elizabeth Williamson. See 3

4 iii Volbina, born July 14, 1853 at Ballum or Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to Portland, Me. when about 15 years old, coming to this country with Mads Nelson Bruns and his wife on the return trip from a visit to the "old country". Married at Portland Apr. 27, 1872, Ferdinand Peter Ebbesen (Frederick Ebbesen), son of Lars and Mariane Ebbesen. Settled on a farm at Falmouth, Me. He died at Falmouth Aug. 4, 1938; she died also at Falmouth May 24, 1925. Mr. Ebbesen born Nov. 11, 1851 in Denmark, probably at Copenhagen. There were six children all born at Portland and Falmouth.

5 iv Elsa Maria, born Jan. 27, 1854, at Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to Portland, Me., where she married Sept. 19, 1873, Andreas Christian Miller who had courted her in the "old country". Came to Portland when about 18 years old, unaccompanied by relatives or friends aboard a sailing vessel, with other passengers, during the voyage of which the vessel had been given up for lost; it having been dismasted in part. He was born Mar. 4, 1852, in Hostrup, Danish Schleswig, the son of Laust and Caroline Moller. Settled on a farm at Falmouth, Me., moving to Eugene, Ore. in 1908. She died July 23, 1924 at Eugene. He died at Yuba City, Calif., June 6, 1932. There were six children, all born at Portland and Falmouth.

6 v Christian N., born May 11, 1856, probably at Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to Portland, Me. May 23, 1878. Married there Sept. 11, 1880, Louisa Holgenstyle (Helgenstyle). Settled on a farm at Falmouth, Me. She formerly of Denmark. He died at Portland 1922. There were five children, all born Portland and Falmouth.

7 vi Tomina (Minnie), born about Feb. 4, 1859, probably at Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to Portland, Me., where she married Feb. 23, 1879, as his 1st wife, August Johnson, born Unyry, Sweden Nov. 22, 1858. Settled in Portland. She died at Portland Mar. 10, 1894. He died 1918 at Colebrook, N.H. while visiting his son. There were six children by the 1st union, three by the 2d, none by a 3d.

8 vii Sina (Sine, Senin), born about Oct. 11, 1861, probably at Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to Portland, Me., where she married as his 1st wife, Jasper Carlsen, Nov. 12, 1881. She died at South Portland Sept. 18, 1897. He married 2d Jutta Jensen, by whom there was no issue. He formerly of Ruskjoberg, Denmark; settled in Portland. A carpenter. There were three children, all girls, born in Portland and South Portland.

9 viii Jens Christian, born May 17, 1862, probably in Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to Portland, arriving there Aug. 22, 1882. Married at Portland Sept. 27, 1884, Dorothe Marie Christiansen, formerly of Denmark. Settled in Portland; a carpenter and contracting foreman. He died at Portland Aug. 9, 1918. She outlived him. There were but two children.

10 ix Soren Hanson, born Nov. 27, 1863, probably at Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to Portland, Me., arriving there Sept. 26, 1883. Married at Portland Dec. 20, 1890, Sophie Oleson, formerly of Maristad, Sweden. She born Sept. 22, 1865; died Oct. 1907 at Portland. He died at Portland Sept. 27, 1910. Cabinet-maker and musician; resided at Woodfords (Portland). There were seven children.

11 x Anders Nelson, born Dec. 30, 1865 at Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. Emigrated to N. Y. City May 25, 1884, thence to Portland, Me., probably accompanied by his father. Married at Portland Hannah Maria Gregor (Johanna Grygaard), Oct. 11, 1889. She died probably after 1922 but before her husband. He died at Bath, Me., Dec. 31, 1929, while visiting his daughter. Cabinet-maker; settled in Woodfords (Portland). There were nine children.

NIELS ANDERSON NELSON BRUNS^2 (Jens^1), son of Jens Nielsen and Kystine Maria (Skov) Bruns, born at Ballum, Danish Schleswig, Jan. 17, 1851. Emigrated to Portland, Me., via Quebec, Cda., arriving at Portland, Sept. 28, 1872, in Company with friends. Naturalized at Portland, Sept. 8, 1880. Died at Portland, July 17, 1922, aged 71 years, 6 months; burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth, Me.

He married 1st, at Portland, June 1, 1879, KAREN SOPHIE ANDERSEN, daughter of Anders Petersen (or Pedersen), and Ane Sophie (Olson, or Olsdatter). She was born in Denmark about May 13, 1852; died at Cumberland, Me. (record at Falmouth), Mar. 5, 1895, of consumption, age 43 years, 9 months, 20 days; burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth. Her death record gives her parents as "Anders Pedersen" and "Anna L. Olsdatter", but similar records for her sisters and brother give their names as "Anders Petersen" and "Ane Sophie (Olson)". This is an excellent example of the old custom of the children being given a surname formed of the father's given mame, with the patronymic ending -sen. She came to Portland shortly after 1872. Dorothea, the daughter of Karen's sister Inger, believes that Karen, as well as all her brothers and sisters, were born at Oro. Keren's husband believed she was born in Copenhagen. Many photographs of Karen and of her sisters and brothers, were taken at Roskilde.

Niels married 2d, at Portland, Jan. 27, 1896, CLARA ELIZABETH WILLIAMSON (Wilhelmsen), born at Mandal, Norway, June 23, 1860; died at Freeport, Me., at the home of her daughter Helen, aged 79 years; burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth.

Germany having taken Schleswig in 1864, and having been notified of a coming draft, Niels with two friends fled to Copenhagen from where they made their way to England. Once in England, they managed to get aboard the S. S. BUDA, on which among a cargo of sheep, they made the voyage to Quebec. On arrival at the Canadian city, they contacted Mads N. Bruns, uncle of Niels at Portland, who arranged for them to come there. In Portland Niels was employed at stevedoring and at the Portland Co., but soon went into business for himself as a builder and contractor, in which work he became very successful. Said to be the builder of the First Lutheran Church at Portland. A man of honor and correct habits; fair in all his business relations; he was revered by his children and respected by all who knew him; he was an outstanding and worthy representative of the family. In religion a Lutheran, in politics a Republican. He resided at Portland and Deering. He was noted for his feats of strength while at the Portland Co.

Children (Bruns) born Portland, Me., by Karen:

12 i Infant, born Dec. 20, 1886; died 6 days old; burial at Forest City Cemetery, South Portland (Children's Range #73.).

13 ii Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns Jr., born Sept. 16, 1888. Died Oct. 13, 1918 in service at a Maryland Arsenal; a soldier of World War I. A carpenter and builder with his father; in later years a railroad man. Never married; no issue. Burial at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth.

* 14 iii Anna Marie,[3] born May 30, 1892. Christened Anna Marie Charlotte Bruns in First Lutheran Church at Portland. She married Oct. 2, 1915, Kenneth Sutherland McCann, the compiler, in the Dutch Reformed Church Parsonage, St. George, Staten Island, N.Y.; Rev. Geo. C. Lenington, officiated. He born Milford, Mass., May 12, 1893, the son of Thomas Nash and Sarah Elizabeth (Gilman) McCann; now retired Lt. Comdr. USCG, living Glen Burnie, Md., with wife Anna.

Children (Bruns) born Portland, Me., by Clara:

15 iv Carl William, born Dec. 18, 1896. A railroad supervisor of mail traffic at Portland. Married June 29, 1925, at Portland, Hazel Vaughan Chipman, daughter of Albert W. and Flora M. (Emery); she born Boston, Mass. 1898. Residing Portland. No issue.

16 v Helen Marie, born May 23, 1898; married 1st (   ); married 2d at Portsmouth, N.H. June 1, 1933, Ernest Bedker, son of August and Pauline (Westphal); he born 1901 at Beaver Dam, Wis.; a former show business man, now proprietor of Calvert Kennels at Freeport, Me. Have one daughter Elizabeth Ann.

17 vi Minnie Elizabeth, born Mar. 11, 1900; married Apr. 23, 1927 at Portland George Leon Bradbury, salesman, born 1901 at Roxbury, Mass., son of Ernest C. and Annie G. (Haley). Reside Pownal, Me. He proprietor of an oil business at Brunswick, Me. Have one son George Jr. who married Arlene Litchfield of Freeport and reside there; no issue.

18 vii Henry Anderson Nelson, born Oct. 3, 1902; died at Portland (Deering), Me., about 1940. A Maine State policeman; resided at Deering; married at Portland, Apr. 15, 1936, Bertha Lucille Trask, born 1910, daughter of James H. and Alice E. (Cummings), at Sidney, Me.; no issue.

It includes families of Brodersen, Carlsen, Ebbesen, Johnson, Miller and others. It is built upon a description of the Bruns and Brons families in Denmark and America related to the compiler in 1920 by Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns, son of Jens, supplemented and in most part corroborated, by contributions from many other members of the family, by records from the Parish of Bruns in Danish Schleswig, as furnished by Rev. Anders Malling, the pastor, by a paper written in Danish by Niels Nissen Brons, son of Elias, entitled "The Life of An Ordinary Man", and by a limited research into vital and other records. ANDERSEN GENEALOGY

(Connects with Bruns Genealogy)

The "old country" ancestor of this Andersen line in America was Anders Petersen who married in Denmark, Ane Sophie Olson. On the death record for the daughters Mariane at Cumberland, Me., and Inger at Scarborough, Me., as well as the son Peter at Portland, Me., the father's name appears as "Anders Peterson", "Andres Peterson" and "Andrew Petersen", respectively. On that for the daughter Karen, at Falmouth, Me., the father's name appears as "Anders Pedersen". The mother's name appears on the death record for the daughter Mariane as "Ane Sophie Olson"; on that for the daughter Inger as "Annie Sophia"; and does not appear on that for the son Peter. However, on the death record for the daughter Karen, the mother's name appears as "Anna L. Olsdatter". Variant pronunciations by different members of the family no doubt account for the discrepancies in the spelling of the names. Whether Olson or Olsdatter is the correct surname of the wife of the ancestor, is not certainly known at this time. At the time of her death Karen was at the farm home of her sister Mariane in Cumberland who, it is presumed, was the informant for the record. At the time of Mariane's death, her sister Marie was living on the farm at Cumberland, but she could talk very little English, yet either she or Mariane's widowed husband no doubt was the informant for the record. So whether the mother of the children hereinafter listed was an Olson or an Olsdatter, is left for the descendents to determine. For the purpose of this paper she was an Olson.

Here is an excellent example of the former "old country" custom of giving the children the father's first name as a surname, with the patronymic ending -son, or -sen, to show descent from the father or grandfather. The ancestor's surname was Petersen, the children's surname was Andersen. The youngest ~~oldest~~ son's name was Peter Andersen, though he spelled the surname Anderson after coming to this country. The surname is correctly spelled Andersen, but will be found Anderson in many records. A photograph of Karen, the daughter, taken in Roskilde, where photos of other members of the family were also taken, bears the notation, in Danish "This is my picture", signed "Karen Sophie Andersen".

The parents did not emigrate to America. The children that did come over and settled in and around Portland, Me., rarely spoke of their father, so that the grandchildren now living are unable to contribute little concerning him. But according to the best information, he was a seafaring man as has been previously noted; was a musical person and liked too well the company of others with the result that he was more or less constantly "in his cups" and a poor provider. His wife, who tired of the uncertain living the father provided for his family, took the children and left him. She obtained a one-room apartment and brought up the eight children therein the best that she was able, even to "going out and plowing for others to provide for her children". But the children in turn started working at the age of 8 years so that not all were a burden to her.

Niels, husband of Karen, had believed all the children were born at Copenhagen, but Dorothea, daughter of Inger has said that they were not born at Copenhagen nor at Roskilde, but probably at Oro. Apparantly the homesite was not too far from Roskilde where various members of the family had photographs taken at one time or another.

Children (Andersen) all born in Denmark (Seeland):

i Hans, emigrated to Portland, Me. but soon returned to Denmark and settled in Stevns Klint, on the coast of Seeland, where he became a farmer and where all his children were born. Served in the army of Denmark as a young man. Married twice; had 1 child by the first union, 6 by the second union. Some of his children are said to have come to this country and settled in or around Chicago, Ill.

ii Anna Sophie, married in Copenhagen to Niels Nielsen, a wooden shoe maker. Had 4 children, all born in Copenhagen. Did not come to America. Anna, wife of the compiler and daughter of Karen, named for her.

iii Mariane, born Mar. 6, 1846; emigrated to Portland, Me. and there married ("Mariano Andersen") Nov. 30, 1877, Anders Hansen; died ("Mariane Hanson") at Cumberland, Me. Apr. 7, 1916, aged 70 years, 1 month, 1 day. He, known as "Andrew Hanson" outlived her a number of years. After their marriage settled on a farm at Cumberland. Children:(1) Infant, died as such. (2)Hans Olaf, followed the sea; last heard from in 1917.

iv Marie Sophie, emigrated to Portland, Me., escorted by Olaf, son of Mariane. Never married. Died at Portland about 1931. Resided with her sister Mariane at Cumberland until the latter's death, from then on kept house for her brother-in-law at Cumberland until her health failed when she moved to a Danish Sisterhood home in Portland.

v Inger, born May 24, 1849; died at Scarborough, Me. Apr. 4, 1915; aged 65 years 11 months. Emigrated to Portland, Me. 1882. There married Nov. 18, 1885 in the home of her sister Karen, Niels Johnson (name changed from Jorgensen), son of Jorgen Jensen, who became a successful farmer at Scarborough. He died at Scarborough Mar. 27, 1927, having been born Jan. 1, 1846, according to his daughter Dorothea, at Ouro (?), Denmark. Children: (1) Niels Sophus, born Jan. 31, 1888, at Portland, Me.; married Annie Marie Lund, Apr. 22, 1920; she born Feb. 3, 1886 at Portland, Ore., the daughter of Hans Christian and Elsa Christina (Bruns) Lund. Child: (I)HELENA MARIE, born Apr. 2, 1922, at Scarborough; a teacher in Conn.

vi Peter Olaf, born 1854; married at Copenhagen, Denmark, Johanna Marie Petersen, presumably a widow with several children, including Carl below. Emigrated to Portland, Me. in 1886, with his wife and two children. A carpenter; served the cabinet-making trade in Denmark; was in the King's Guard as a young man. He died at Portland Aug. 21, 1928, aged 75 years, 3 months, 1 day; burial at Forest City Cemetery, South Portland. Children: (1)Carl Peter, born May 1, 1880 at Copenhagen, Denmark; said to have been 6 years old when the family came over; married 1st Lillian Walsh; married 2d Bertha Heatly; died Feb. 18, 1941; resided in and about Portland, Me. No issue. (2)Ingerborg Sophie, born July 30, 1882 at Copenhagen, Denmark; but 4 years old when the family came over; married Sept. 27, 1901, Walter Carl Rosenblad, painter and interior decorator; settled in Portland, Me.; died there June 24-25, 1948; he born Apr. 13, 1880, at Copenhagen; died Nov. 30, 1945. Children: (I)ALBERT AUGUST ELEANOR, born Sept. 10, 1902; married Katherine A.-------, a teacher; living at Portland; children: (A)Joan Alberta, born Apr. 29, 1932, married James William Stanton, Aug. 22, 1953; living South Portland; she attending college. (II)RUTH MARIE REBECCA, born Dec. 20, 1903; a nurse; married George Dwinell, he now deceased. (III)ESTHER JOSEPHINE, born Nov. 1, 1908; married -------White, salesman; living at Bangor, Me.; children: (A)Jean Lorraine, born Apr. 10, 1935; attending University of Maine; (B)Leigh James, born Sept. 20, 1946; attending school. (IV)WILFRED NORMAN CARL, twin, born Apr. 14, 1913; living at Pride's Corner, Me., near Portland; married Mae E.-------, Secretary to Supt. of Schools at Falmouth, Me.; no issue. (V)WILTON JOHN WALTER, twin, born Apr. 14, 1913; resides at Portland, Me.; married Beatrice E.-------; no issue. (VI)WALTER CLIFFORD JR., born Nov. 26, 1914; married Charlotte-------; residing at Portland; he a paint salesman; children: (A)Sandra Ruth, born June 29, 1943; (B)Denis Roy, born Oct. 20, 1946. (3)John (Johannes) Olaf, born Oct. 28, 1887, at Portland, Me.; died Aug. 29, 1950; resided Portland; never married. (4)Mariane (Yarna, Jennie, Jane.), born July 22, 1891 at Portland, Me.; spells the surname "Anderson" as did her father; living at Portland. Never married. (5)Christine Marie, born Dec. 4, 1893, at Portland, Me.; died Oct. 4, 1931; never married. (6)Ruth, died soon after birth. (7)Anders, died in infancy.

* vii Karen Sophie,[1] born 1852, probably at Copenhagen, Roskilde, or Oro. Emigrated to Portland, Me., shortly after 1872; died near Portland with T. B. Mar. 5, 1895. Married at Portland June 1, 1879 Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns, eldest son of Jens Nielsen and Kystine Maria (Skov) Bruns, of Bruns, Ballum, and Rapsted, Danish Schleswig. He was born at Ballum, Danish Schleswig Jan. 17, 1851; emigrated to Portland, Me. via Quebec, Cda., Sept. 28, 1872; died at Portland July 17, 1922, aged 71 years, 6 months. Burial of both at Pine Grove Cemetery, Falmouth, Me. He married 2d, Clara Elizabeth Williamson (Wilhelmsen). For their children see Bruns Genealogy.

viii Sophie, died at an early age in Denmark.

Here the Andersen genealogy connects through Karen (vii) above with the Bruns Genealogy at Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns (3), which see.

Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns, husband of Karen (vii); Dorothea, daughter of Inger (v); Mariane, daughter of Peter (vi); and Mrs. Niels Sophus Johnson, wife of Inger's (v) son Niels; were the authority for the foregoing information. Mr. Albert A. Rosenblad, nephew of Mariane, daughter of Peter (vi), contributed the information on the family of Ingerborg, daughter of Peter. The name of the husband of Anna Sophie (ii) was provided by Niels, husband of Karen (vii); he also believed that all the daughters had the middle name of Sophie. The marriage record for Karen, and the death records for Karen, Mariane, Inger, and Peter, provided additional information.

The compiler was acquainted with Mariane (iii); Marie Sophie (iv); Inger (v); and Peter Olaf (vi). Karen, the compiler's mother-in-law, was not known even to her daughter Anna, who was less than three years old when her mother died. Anna, who of course has contributed some of the information concerning her aunts, lived on the farm at Mariane's in Cumberland with her brother Niels during the illness and for some after, the death of her mother.

Page 63, #15. Change the date Dec. 18, 1896 to read Dec. 19, 1896. #17. In the 2d line of this paragraph change the date 1901 to read 1900.

Page 37, 4th line. The original date (1870) changed in some copies, to 1871, is correctly stated.

Page 44, #13. A transcribed copy of the journal herein mentioned has been given the Maine Historical Society at Portland, Me.; the original is in the possession of Mrs. William Hutchinson (Mrs. Dorothy Sutherland Hutchinson), of Worcester, Mass. It lists others from Saco, Biddeford, and Bangor, Me., who made the voyage with him to Australia, and details the events and experiences of the voyage.

Page 45, #17. They were married Dec. 1863. Had two children: Mamie (Mary E.) born June 1868 in Hopedale, Mass., died 1881, and Harry W., born Biddeford, Me. 10 Oct. 1864, died 7 Mar. 1931 at Sommerville, Mass. Harry married Alida L. Maxwell, of Dover, N.H.; she will be 86 years old Mar. 9, 1955, and is now living with her daughter at Worcester, Mass. Harry and Alida had one child, a daughter Dorothy, who married William Hutchinson of Sommerville, Mass., they in turn have one child, a son Kent, a Disbursing Officer in the Navy, who recently married a girl from Pittsburgh, Pa. Harry and his family were frequent dinner guests at the home of the compiler in Everett, Mass., 1919-1927.

Pages iii, 1, 2 and 3. The "parent paper" entitled McCann-Alley - Descendents of Thomas N. & Margaret N. (Alley) McCann of Nantucket & Randolph, Mass. with Ancestral Record of Margaret Nuns Alley, herein mentioned, and in which all references are stated in full, has been prepared and distributed to holders of this work. Researchers should consult it for further genealogical information on this McCann line, but for full information on Thomas Nash McCann, Jr. and his descendents, both papers should be consulted, Pages 56, 57 and 64. The "parent paper" entitled Bruns-Brons Genealogy or, The Genealogy And History of the Bruns Families of Portland, Me. & Vicinity & Brons Families of The West Coast 1819-1954, with index, has been prepared and distributed. Researchers desiring further genealogical information on the Bruns or Brons lines should consult it, but for full information on Niels Anderson Nelson Bruns and his descendents, both papers should be examined.

The following items, narrated by my mother, are here set forth for the information of researchers examining this work for information on the Gilman and Sutherland lines:

Page 34, #53. He had sons Edward H, and William; the former married and had a son William.

Page 34, #55. Besides several girls who married, there was a son Carroll who died young.

Page 34, #56. Fred Bryant was from Saco, Me. They had children, including Florence Esthel Thatcher, who married a Mr. Hutter of Framington, N.H., as well as a son Harry who was believed to be single and living in Sanford, Me., in 1927, and a daughter Bertie, and others.

Page 34, #58. They were known to have had several children, including a daughter Mary Berhette (or Burnette) who was believed to be single and living in Saco, Me., about 1927 (mother visited her in 1922 at Saco). There also was a son Walter, a civil engineer, living in Saco in Jan. 1920; and others.

Page 34, #59. Lived in Saco, Me. Probably retired and living there in 1920; not known to have had children.

Page 34, #60. He was in the wholesale paint business in Boston. Believed to be living, aged about 72 years, in 1920, probably in Dorchester, Mass. (5 Wales Place). There were children, including Charles Harold, residing in Dorchester (37 Granger St.) in 1920, had three sons and a daughter. Also Warren, residing in Cambridge, Mass. (34 Creighton St.) in 1920 and then without issue.

Page 35, #62. His wife Amy died in 1915, aged 54. The son LeRoy was a clerk in the Treasuary Dept. in Washington, D.C. (when he died he left no family known to the compiler. The adopted daughter Marion remained single.)

Page 44, #8. He was from New York. They had children: John Gilman, George Henry, Enock Freeman, Samuel Harvey, William, Mary Abbie, and Charles E. John married and located in Oregon, and died there. George located in Lewiston, Me., and is believed to have been Mayor thereof; he married and is believed to have had children. Enock married Lois Tuck, located in Biddeford, Me., and was a jeweler there; had daughters Carry who lived in Boston, Emma who lived with Carry about 1920 or 1927, and Mary who died young; Enock remarried after the death of Lois. Samuel married Susan Moses of Biddeford, Me.; was a patternmaker in the Kittery, Me. Navy Yard; had several children, including Fred J. who married Martha Roberts of Biddeford and had Guy who died young and Susan who married Ralph Bonnie of Portland, Me.; also Ralph W. who married a Kittery, Me. girl, had a daughter, who after the death of her mother, was adopted by her uncle Charles Moses of Jersey City, N.J., one time Mayor of that place. William married a girl named --------Ricker, and after her death married her sister Abbie, they in turn had several children. Mary married George Knowlton of Biddeford, Me., had several children that died young, as well as a son Daniel who married Alice Joyce and by her had Joyce and a boy. Charles married a Maine girl and is known to have had a daughter that died young.

Page 44, #9 There were several children, some or all dying young. He went to sea as a young man and at one time was a carpenter at the Kittery, Me., Navy Yard.

Page 44, #12 A daughter Eleanor was born to Nancy and Jed; she married Ab Kimball. Children by the second marriage were: Josie, Jane, and Wade. Josie married Hiram Brown of Natick, Mass. Jane married C. Blaisdell, a shoe worker of Natick, and had Carl and others. Wade, a member of the Newton, Mass. police force, married and had children.

Note: The information concerning Simon Grandison Gilman (Simon G. Gilman #2057 in the Gilman Genealogy by Constance LeNeve Gilman Ames), as well as the Sutherland genealogy, and genealogical notices in Supplement No.3, hereof, is contained in no other specific work known to the compiler. The Andersen genealogy is repeated in condensed form in the Bruns-Brons genealogy above-mentioned.

Complete Index

McCANN - GILMAN GENEALOGY 1954

Urged long ago by others; as matters then were, impossible. Now out of mere impulse, prepared to include the enumerations as ammended by the following:

"Notes" (1 to 20---not numbered) previously issued as pages (iv) and (v); please number the items consecutively.
"Notes, Additions & Corrections" 21 to 87, being pages (vi) to (xv), herewith, including brief genealogical records of BACHTOLD-BAECHTOLD - KEENAN (Item 87).
Revised pages 55 to 70, herewith, to supersede and replace the old. (The Danish lineage is clearly shown in the new pages; this improvement alone justifies the revision).

Instructions

The surname is given followed by the first name and middle initials. The name in parenthesis after the names of males is that of the wife, after the names of females the surname of the husband. The figures before the name denote the year of birth, after the name the page where found; after the name in parenthesis the number of the item, pages (iv) to (xv) opposite which additional information will be found. Some birth years are from ages in death or marriage records.

In some instances enumerations list children by name only; the index gives the year of birth and name of spouse, where known; this information being taken from McCann-Alley Genealogy 1954, or Brøns-Brons-Bruns Genealogy 1956, which should be consulted if additional information is required. Example: A child listed simply as "Julia" at Carlsen, page 64, is "1887 Julia (Pedersen), 64" in the index under Carlsen; elsewhere the husband (not in the enumeration) is also listed in the index, thus: "Pedersen, Theodore (Julia), 64"; the names (Julia and Pedersen) and page number (64) connect the two. These are facts to be especially well fixed in the minds of examiners.

Hyphenated names denote a name-change, as "Jørgensen-Johnson"; but surnames with patronymic endings -sen and -son may be found written both ways in some records for the same family, and for the same person, especially in the first and second (American) generations.

In this index, persons listed as "Brøns" will denote those born Brøns who did not emigrate to the U. S.; "Brøns-Brons" those born Brøns who emigrated here and later took the name "Brons"; "Brøns-Bruns" those born Brøns who also emigrated here but took the name "Bruns"; and "Bruns" native born descendants of the latter.

Abbreviations: d.y. died young. b. baptized. n.m. never married. unm. unmarried.
